NOTE.—In the table above, it is to be understood that the word "near" and the character ☌ (conjunction) are synonymous, and mean that the two bodies are nearest each other at the time expressed, and that they are then on a line running from the North Pole through both bodies, and have the same right ascension. GR. ELON. means greatest elongation, or greatest apparent angular distance from the SUN. The character ☍ indicates that the planet is opposite the Sun, or 180 degs., or half a circle east of it, and rises when the Sun sets, and sets when he rises. When a planet is a quarter of a circle, or 90 degs. from the Sun, east or west, it is known by □. These are the signs of the planets: ☉ the Sun; ☽ ● the Moon; ☿ Mercury; ♀ Venus; ⊕ the Earth; ♂ Mars; ♃ Jupiter; ♄ Saturn; ♅ Uranus; ♆ Neptune.

What the Democratic Party will do when in Power.

I. It will limit the annual taxes to $250,000,000, and out of this moderate revenue will apply $25,000,000 toward the extinction of the public debt; whereas the federal taxes for the last fiscal year amounted to the enormous sum of $411,255,447.

II. It will revise and reform the system of taxation so that this diminished annual burden of $250,000,000 will be equitably distributed. The present system not only overloads the faithful horse, but ties some of the load to his legs, puts a part upon his head, makes him drag a portion by his tail, obstructing his freedom of movement, and causing him the utmost annoyance. The Democratic Party will withdraw every pound of the load from his limbs and extremities and collect it upon his back where he can carry it with greatest ease. It will, moreover, take good care that the taxes find their way into the public treasury, and not into the pockets of greedy, grasping monopolists.

III. The Democratic Party will rectify the abuses of the present banking system; extinguishing monopoly by making the business free to all who comply with the conditions, stopping the interest on government bonds while in pledge to secure bank circulation, and guarding against a redundant currency by compelling the banks to redeem their notes in specie.

IV. It will revive our prostrate shipping interest, and restore to American citizens their former large share in the profits of navigation, by free trade in ships and the repeal of duties on all articles used in their construction.

V. It will extend and complete the system of universal suffrage, by abolishing the term of residence now required for naturalization, and giving intelligent white immigrants the same advantages enjoyed by our colored population. There is no reason why a thrifty German who emigrates to Texas and buys a farm should not at once be as favored a citizen as the South-Carolina negro who emigrates to Texas in the same year and is employed by the German as a laborer.

VI. The Democratic Party will faithfully fulfill all the obligations created by the public debt in their letter and spirit, and will secure to disabled soldiers the full amount of their pensions without allowing a dollar to be deducted for the fees of agents.

VII. It will repeal all laws which permit the federal government, or any of its officers, to interfere with elections in the States.

VIII. It will make it a high misdemeanor, punishable by dismissal from the service, for any officer of the army or navy to aid in the suppression of domestic violence in a State, unless the State authorities have made a previous application to the President for such assistance, in conformity to the Constitution; or to interfere for enforcing any federal law unless a federal judge shall have previously certified that the execution of the laws is resisted by a combination too powerful to be overcome by the marshal and his posse.

IX. The Democratic Party will remove all the political disabilities and disqualifications imposed for participation in the late civil war.

X. It will recognize the binding force of the three new amendments to the Constitution so long as they are held to be valid by the Supreme Court.

The Policy of Hate.

In his message of December 18, 1865, President Johnson said, "The people throughout the entire South evince a laudable desire to renew their allegiance to the government and to repair the devastations of war by a prompt and cheerful return to peaceful pursuits." On the same day General Grant, who had been on a tour through the late insurrectionary States, "to learn, as far as possible, the feelings and intentions of the citizens of those States toward the general government," reported, "I am satisfied that the mass of thinking men of the South accept the present situation of affairs in good faith." Contemporaneous with these statements a reorganization of the State governments of the South was effected, constitutions were adopted, the war debts repudiated, slavery abolished, legislatures elected which ratified the thirteenth or emancipation amendment, and senators and representatives in Congress were chosen. By the opening of 1866, the South was ready for a restoration of its relations to the Union on the basis of an acceptance of the results of the war. June 18, 1866, Mr. Fessenden, in the Senate, and Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, in the House, reported from joint committee that the South ought not to be restored to its relations with the general government without punitory and precautionary legislation. December 11, 1866, in the House, and February 1, 1867, in the Senate, a bill passed denying representation to the Southern States. March 2, 1867, the first reconstruction act was passed, declaring no legal State governments existent in Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas, resolving them into military districts and establishing martial law therein, with power in the district commandants, on approval by the President, to inflict death. March 23, 1867, the second reconstruction act was passed, ordering the election of conventions to frame constitutions and organize State governments. South. July 19, 1867, the third reconstruction act was passed enlarging the powers of the military commandants, and declaring that neither they nor their subordinates nor appointees were bound by "any opinion of any civil officer of the United States." March 11, 1868, the fourth reconstruction act was passed to make less than a majority of the registered vote sufficient to carry any election under the Congressional plan. June 22, 1868, there passed a fifth reconstruction act to admit Arkansas to representation; June 25, 1868, a sixth, to admit North-Carolina, South-Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida; April 10, 1869, a seventh, ordering elections in Texas, Virginia, and Mississippi; December 23, 1869, an eighth, re-reconstructing Georgia; January 26, 1870, a ninth, admitting Virginia; February 1, 1870, a tenth, prescribing a new qualification for such admission; February 23, 1870, an eleventh, admitting Mississippi; March 30, 1870, a twelfth, admitting Texas; and July 15, 1870, a thirteenth, admitting Georgia a second time. The work of reconstruction which began March 2, 1867, having thus been completed to the satisfaction of Congress on the 15th July, 1870, a period of three years and four months, it seemed as if the Southern States would be remitted to the operation of the civil governments originated, prepared, and approved by Congress; but by the Ku-Klux Act of April 20, 1871, the President is authorized to supersede said governments in his discretion by military rule. As a part of this punitory legislation is to be added the third section of the fourteenth amendment, disqualifying for office the former leaders of the South. The infractions in this course of legislation, not alone of the express provisions of the Constitution of the United States, but of every principle of fair dealing, justice, and good policy, are so numerous and aggravated as almost to defy enumeration and description. By an acceptance of their ratifications of the emancipation amendment, Congress was estopped from denying the validity of the Southern State governments as reorganized under the Lincoln-Johnson plan of restoration, but the ratifications were accepted and the validity denied. Governments which were declared illegal were considered competent to give legal ratifications. Further, the State governments of 1865-6 were, at least, economical and peaceable; no carpet-bag debts were created or any "Ku-Klux outrages" known. Their continuance promised a return of peace and prosperity; but in defiance of such promise they were overturned. The new system proposed was so flagrantly outside the Constitution that no attempt was ever made to reconcile it therewith. It was said in so many words that "nobody but a d—d fool ever supposed it was within the Constitution." As a main feature in the system thus declared unconstitutional by its promoters was a disfranchisement and disqualification of all who had sworn to support the Constitution and afterward aided secession. In carrying out this system the negroes were made citizens and voters, though the fourteenth amendment making them citizens was not declared adopted until July 28, 1868, and the fifteenth amendment, declaring them suffragan, was not announced as adopted till July 30, 1870. By this negro vote, the conventions were, without an exception, carried, and the constitutions framed by those bodies ratified. The total negro registration in the ten States for 1867-8 was 725,591, while by the census of 1870 but 602,779 adult male negroes were found in those States. The election frauds, such as ballot-box stuffing, repeating, continued elections, (one lasting eleven days and one a month,) by which this scheme was carried through, are too well known to need renewed mention. In Arkansas, Alabama, and Mississippi, the constitutions defeated on the popular vote were nevertheless declared ratified. In Texas, no constitution was framed, the convention dispersing and a military commission putting forth a constitution under its name. In Florida, the convention split in two, each part framing a constitution, and the military forced the adoption of one and the rejection of the other. The nature ot the State governments erected in pursuance of the reconstruction scheme can be best estimated from the fact that the aggregate debt and liabilities of the new reconstructed States have been raised in three years from $78,000,000 to $286,000,000. The character of the senators and representatives returned to Congress may be imagined from the fact that one senator was an army sutler, and another, Brigadier-General Ames, certified, as commandant of Mississippi, to his own election to represent that State; and in the House, Whittemore, afterward expelled for selling cadetships, may stand as a specimen. With the completion of the original scheme of reconstruction, a claim to what may be known as a continuing power of reconstruction, was put forward by Congress in the act of December 22, 1869. At first it was understood that the plea for the policy of Congressional military reconstruction was that, while unconstitutional it was necessary, the case being one of those peculiar exceptions to all rules arising from great wars and social convulsions, but by the act just named, (which provided for a reconstruction of Georgia, being an act to turn her out of the Union after having admitted her,) the right to exercise a general surveillance over the Southern States, and admit or expel at pleasure, was asserted. This surveillance is now in full practice, and forms a part of the policy of the Republican Party toward the South. The rule is, that any contract, understanding, or agreement with those States by Congress to the contrary notwithstanding, Congress may, at any time, interfere therein to remodel, alter, or abolish at will. This new claim was put forth in the case of North-Carolina, in August, 1870. At that time, an election was held to decide whether a convention should be had to prune the State constitution of some onerous provisions, and during the canvass it was distinctly stated, by Attorney-General Akerman, that were such revision made, the question would arise whether the State government thereunder was one for Congress to recognize. Under this menace, the vote was adverse to the calling of the proposed convention. Beyond this claim to a right of interference at any time by legislative means, Congress has, by the Ku-Klux Act of April 20, 1871, put the South at the mercy of the federal executive. By this statute, republished and commented on in this issue of THE WORLD ALMANAC, it is competent for the President, in his discretion, to supersede any of the reconstructed State governments by military rule. In the Presidential canvass of 1868, it was strenuously objected to the Democratic nominee for Vice-President, that he had said the President should "disperse the carpet-bag government at the point of the bayonet," and what was so strongly urged against the Democratic Party at that time is now the prerogative of the federal executive by virtue of the latest in the long catalogue of reconstruction acts. He is authorized, at the point of the bayonet, to disperse the carpet-bag State governments—or any other.

Ku-Klux Legislation.

DECEMBER 16, 1870, the Senate requested the President to communicate any information he might have in reference to Ku-Klux outrages in the South, especially in North-Carolina. January 13, 1871, the President transmitted to the Senate "abstracts of reports and other papers on file in the War Department relative to the outrages in North-Carolina, and also, for the information of the Senate, those relative to outrages in the other Southern States." From this wording it would appear that the outrages reported had just then occurred, whereas the abstracts sent in show the alleged acts of violence to date from 1868, 1867, 1866, and even 1865. From North-Carolina, the special State aimed at in the investigation, the army officers on duty therein reported thus: Captain Evan Thomas, Fourth Artillery, writes from Robeson County, "The cause of the trouble in this county is in no way political;" Major Stewart, Fourth Artillery, writes from Fort Macon, "This portion of the State has been very quiet and undisturbed;" Captain Frank G. Smith, Fourth Artillery, writes from Raleigh, "Nothing pertinent to the subject of inquiry has come to my knowledge;" Captain John Mendenhall, Fourth Artillery, writes from Fort Johnson, "The people, so far as I know or can learn, are good, peaceable, law-abiding citizens;" and Colonel Henry J. Hunt, Fifth Artillery, late State commandant, writes, "I heard of none such as happening while I was in the State to which any importance could be attached." Almost contemporaneous with the message of the 13 January, 1871, several of the reconstructed governors of the South sent in messages to their several legislatures, and all without exception testified to a condition of peace and good order. January 4, 1871, Governor Clayton, of Arkansas, says, "Law and order, peace and security, reign throughout our borders. Old feuds are rapidly dying out, old animosities are being forgotten, and old prejudices eradicated." January 11, 1871, Governor Warmoth, of Louisiana, says, "A growing spirit of harmony and good will between the different classes of our people has been strikingly evinced during the last year." January 16, 1871, Governor Scott, of South-Carolina, says, "I can not say with truth, upon any information in my possession, that in any section of the State the laws are not executed, for not a single case has been reported in which the officers of the law have been resisted in the discharge of their duties." March 4, 1871, the Forty-first Congress expired, and the Forty-second began. By the 7th, an organization of the new House was effected, and an adjournment was pressed, when a message was received from the President requesting the two houses to remain in session, as he might have a message to communicate in the course of a week. March 18, 1871, Senator Sherman offered a resolution to the effect that more reconstruction was needed. Senator Trumbull said rest and retrenchment were what the country needed, and not new punitory legislation. Senator Johnston denied that any Ku-Klux existed in Virginia. Senator Sherman said, "I am perfectly aware there is no testimony going to show it to exist in Virginia." March 21, Mr. Morphis, of Mississippi, had a dispatch read, dated March 17, from Governor Alcorn, of that State, saying, "Mississippi presents an unbroken evidence of civil obedience and order." March 23, the President sent in a message, saying, "A condition of affairs now exists in some of the States of the Union, rendering life and property insecure, and the carrying of the mails and collection of the revenue, dangerous. That the power to correct these evils is beyond the control of the State authorities, I do not doubt; that the power of the Executive of the United States, acting within the limits of the existing laws, is sufficient for the present exigency, is not clear; therefore, I urgently recommend such legislation as, in the judgment of Congress, shall effectually secure life, liberty, and property in all parts of the United States." The next day, March 24, the President issued his proclamation alleging the existence of an insurrection in South-Carolina, and warned all engaged therein to disperse to their homes in twenty days. On the transmission of this message, the leading newspapers of the country sent special correspondents to South-Carolina to describe "the Ku-Klux war," as it was called; but it appearing that the State was entirely quiet, the reporters were withdrawn, and no additional proclamation was issued by the President at the end of the twenty days. March 28, Mr. Shellabarger brought forward in the House the Ku-Klux bill which the Republican members of Congress had agreed upon in caucus. The main features of the bill were to give the federal courts jurisdiction of cases theretofore only cognizable in the State courts, and to authorize the President to proclaim martial law, use the federal troops, and suspend the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in any State without waiting an application for aid from the authorities thereof.

From this time to April 20, the bill was debated in both Houses. In the Senate, Mr. Blair said, the only power of legislation which Congress had, under the fourteenth amendment, was to prevent any violations of its provisions by State laws. The measure which it was then proposed to pass was an assumption by Congress of the power to punish violations of State law. The design of this legislation was to carry out the designs of that remorseless set of scoundrels, the carpet-baggers, and their aiders and abettors, and to continue General Grant perpetually in power. Senator Trumbull said, while that amendment enables Congress to protect a citizen from a discrimination against his rights by a State, it does not allow Congress to exercise police power to the destruction of State authority. Congress has no right to substitute the federal for the State courts. The latter were nearer to the people, and the nearer the administration of justice between man and man was brought to the people themselves, the safer would be their rights of person and property. When the federal government took to itself the entire protection of the individual citizen of the State in his person and property, there would be an end to the State government, resulting in an unwise change in our governmental system. Senator Saulsbury referred to those sections of the bill which left it in the discretion of the President to say whether an insurrection too strong for the civil authority existed in any State, and then authorized him to repress the same by the use of the military force of the United States, "or by other means as he may deem necessary." It might seem necessary in the executive eye to remove the governor of the State from office, or to abolish the State courts, or to forbid the holding of any election called for by the laws, and if so, this bill gave him the power to do those acts. Senator Bayard said the power of interference by the federal government in a State was limited by the Constitution, Art. IV., Sec. 1, to cases of invasion, or "on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature can not be convened) against domestic violence." Congress could not authorize the President to interfere when there was no invasion, and when the constituted authorities of a State made no appeal for aid. Yet this bill proposed to give the executive power to enter any State at his own will and pleasure, and resort to any measures he might see fit. Frequent applications to him to exercise this power would be made by designing men, thus giving rise to a crop of informers all over the country. Senator Thurman said the bill was a declaration that the State courts were not to be trusted. He was not willing to say that to the courts of his State, Ohio. It was declared a conspiracy to combine for the purpose of interfering with "the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States, or depriving the citizen of the due and equal protection of the law." This was vague language. The bill did not require any overt act to establish guilt. The combination itself made the crime. The intent to be attributed to the persons combining was not defined, and the utmost discretion in framing indictments as to this intent was allowed the district-attorneys. The bill was not only retrospective, but anticipative in its scope. Its pains and penalties applied to all federal laws granting rights both past, present, and to come. If Mr. Sumner's supplementary Civil Rights bill to enforce social equality was to pass, then any infraction of its terms was punishable under the pending measure. By Mr. Sumner's bill, hotel-keepers, theatre-managers, and all conductors of public conveyances and places, were to be made to give place to negroes along with their white guests and patrons. Under the Ku-Klux bill, any manager or host refusing to do this could be fined from $500 to $1000, and be imprisoned from six months to six years. The essence of the measure was in the third and fourth sections, which vested the President of the United States with a power now only wielded by the Sultan of Turkey and the Czar of Russia. He could at will declare war against the people of any State, and suspend the writ of habeas corpus there. This power of suspension was a legislative power, and could not be delegated to presidents. Its unreserved surrender to a presidential candidate was most dangerous to the liberties of the country. Senator Casserly laid stress on the incompatibility of the bill with the amendment on which it was professedly based. The language of the amendment was that "no State should make or enforce any law" abridging political rights, or denying equal protection of the laws, and the bill read that no "person" shall. Senator Stockton said the constitution required that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus should not be suspended except when, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety required it. The bill avoided the whole prohibition by defining what should constitute a rebellion, and leaving the question of whether the public safety required a suspension entirely in the executive discretion. Further, the fourteenth amendment provides that no State shall deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, or deny any person the equal protection of the laws. The bill authorized the President to do what the amendment forbids the States to do. Further still, the constitution requires that an accused person shall have an impartial trial. By the bill the court was virtually to select the jury. The bill was not, as it professed to be, one to enforce the fourteenth amendment. That amendment was to forbid any State making certain laws; the bill was to punish any person for doing or intending to do certain acts.

April 19, 1871, the bill as reported by a joint committee of conference passed both houses; in the Senate by 36 to 13; in the House by 93 to 74. It was then carried to the President, and approved the next day. It is entitled "An act to enforce the provisions of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, and for other purposes," and is in seven sections. Section first applies to individuals the inhibitions which the fourteenth amendment applies only to States. Section two punishes any combination of two or more persons, with intent to deprive any person of political rights, or to hinder or injure a federal officer, with fine from $500 to $5000, or imprisonment from six months to six years, or by both, and for any injury from the carrying out of such intent, the party injured shall have an action for damages against his injurer or injurers. Section three empowers the President to judge in his own discretion whether any insurrection or combination as above noted exists in a State, and without waiting for an application for assistance from the State authorities, to "take such measures, by the employment of the militia, or the land and naval forces of the United States, or of either, or by other means as he may deem necessary for the suppression of such insurrection, domestic violence, or combinations." Section four gives him a like power of suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in any State. Section five empowers the judge in any federal court trying a case under his act, to exclude from the grand or petit jury any person "who shall, in the judgment of the court, be in complicity with any such combination or conspiracy." Section six gives an action for damages to any person injured by any conspiracy, of the nature mentioned in section two, which injury any other person might have prevented or aided in preventing. Where the injury results in death, $5000 damages are to be awarded to the widow or next of kin. Section seven continues any prosecution begun under any other like punitory act to this. The full text of the act will be found subjoined. Under this statute many indictments have been found or prosecuted in North and South-Carolina, Mississippi and Kentucky, and instructions have been issued from the Attorney-General of the United States to all his subordinates to be diligent in seeking and reporting information on which to make arrest and trial. May 3, 1871, President Grant issued his proclamation reciting the passage of this act, and "enjoining upon all good citizens, and especially upon all public officers, to be zealous in the enforcement thereof." Furthermore, the proclamation says, "This law of Congress applies to all parts of the United States, and will be enforced everywhere to the extent of the powers vested in the executive," and "I will not hesitate to exhaust the powers thus vested in the executive." October 12, the President issued a second proclamation, reciting the existence of an insurrection in the counties of Spartanburg, York, Marion, Chester, Laurens, Newberry, Fairfield, Lancaster, and Chesterfield, in South-Carolina, and ordering all therein concerned to disperse to their homes in twenty days. October 17, he issued a third proclamation, suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in the above-named counties. November 3, he issued a fourth proclamation, reciting that no disorder warranting a suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus existed in Marion County above named, and revoking the suspension ordered therein; but declaring that an insurrection existed in Union County, South-Carolina, and ordering all therein concerned to disperse in five days. November 10th, he issued a fifth proclamation, suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in Union County above named. Under these latter four proclamations a very large number of arrests of persons, either as witnesses or accused, has taken place, one account putting the total at two thousand.

AN ACT to enforce the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who, under color of any law, statute, ordinance, regulation, custom, usage of any State, shall subject, or cause to be subjected, any person within the jurisdiction of the United States to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution of the United States, shall, any such law, statute, ordinance, regulation, custom, or usage of the State to the contrary notwithstanding, be liable to the party injured in any action at law, suit in equity, or other proper proceeding for redress; such proceeding to be prosecuted in the several district or circuit courts of the United States, with and subject to the same rights of appeal, review upon error, and other remedies provided in like cases in such courts, under the provisions of the act of the ninth of April, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, entitled "An act to protect all persons in the United States in their civil rights, and to furnish the means of their vindication," and the other remedial laws of the United States which are in their nature applicable in such cases.

SECTION 2. That if two or more persons within any State or Territory of the United States shall conspire together to overthrow, or to put down, or to destroy by force the government of the United States, or to levy war against the United States, or to oppose by force the authority of the government of the United States, or by force, intimidation, or threat to prevent, hinder, or delay the execution of any law of the United States, or by force to seize, take, or possess any property of the United States contrary to the authority thereof, or by force, intimidation, or threat to prevent any person from accepting or holding any office of trust or place of confidence under the United States, or from discharging the duties thereof, by force, intimidation, or threat to induce any officer of the United States to leave any State, district, or place where his duties as such officer might lawfully be performed, or to injure him in his person or property on account of his lawful discharge of the duties of his office, or to injure his person while engaged in the lawful discharge of the duties of his office, or to injure his property so as to molest, interrupt, hinder, or impede him in the discharge of his official duty, or by force, intimidation, or threat to deter any party or witness in any court of the United States from attending such court, or from testifying in any matter pending in such court fully, freely, and truthfully, or to injure any such party or witness in his person or property on account of his having so attended or testified, or by force, intimidation, or threat to influence the verdict, presentment, or indictment, of any juror or grand juror in any court of the United States, or to injure such juror in his person or property on account of any verdict, presentment, or indictment lawfully assented to by him, or on account of his being or having been such juror, or shall conspire together, or go in disguise upon the public highway, or upon the premises of another, for the purpose, either directly or indirectly, of depriving any person or any class of persons of the equal protection of the laws, or of equal privileges or immunities under the laws, or for the purpose of preventing or hindering the constituted authorities of any State from giving or securing to all persons within such State the equal protection of the laws, or shall conspire together for the purpose of in any manner impeding, hindering, obstructing, or defeating the due course of justice in any State or Territory, with intent to deny to any citizen of the United States the due and equal protection of the laws, or to injure any person in his person or his property for lawfully enforcing the right of any person or class of persons to the equal protection of the laws, or by force, intimidation, or threat to prevent any citizen of the United States lawfully entitled to vote from giving his support or advocacy in a lawful manner toward or in favor of the election of any lawfully qualified person as an elector of President or Vice-President of the United States, or as a member of the Congress of the United States, or to injure any such citizen in his person or property on account of such support or advocacy, each and every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a high crime, and, upon conviction thereof in any district or circuit court of the United States or district or supreme court of any Territory of the United States having jurisdiction of similar offenses, shall be punished by a fine not less than five hundred nor more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment, with or without hard labor, as the court may determine, for a period of not less than six months nor more than six years, as the court may determine, or both by such fine and imprisonment as the court shall determine. And if any one or more persons engaged in any such conspiracy shall do, or cause to be done, any act in furtherance of the object of such conspiracy, whereby any person shall be injured in his person or property, or deprived of having and exercising any right or privilege of a citizen of the United States, the person so injured or deprived of such rights and privileges may have and maintain an action for the recovery of damages occasioned by such injury or deprivation of rights and privileges against any one or more of the persons engaged in such conspiracy, such action to be prosecuted in the proper district or circuit court of the United States, with and subject to the same rights of appeal, review upon error, and other remedies provided in like cases in such courts, under the provisions of the act of April ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, entitled "An act to protect all persons in the United States in their civil rights, and to furnish the means of their vindication."

SECTION 3. That in all cases where insurrection, domestic violence, unlawful combinations, or conspiracies in any State shall so obstruct or hinder the execution of the laws thereof, and of the United States, as to deprive any portion or class of the people of such State of any of the rights, privileges, or immunities, or protection named in the Constitution and secured by this act, and the constituted authorities of such State shall either be unable to protect, or shall, from any cause, fail in or refuse protection of the people in such rights, such facts shall be deemed a denial by such State of the equal protection of the laws to which they are entitled under the Constitution of the United States; and in all such cases, or whenever any such insurrection, violence, unlawful combination, or conspiracy shall oppose or obstruct the laws of the United States, or the due execution thereof, or impede or obstruct the due course of justice under the same, it shall be lawful for the President, and it shall be his duty, to take such measures, by the employment of the militia or the land and naval forces of the United States, or of either or by other means, as he may deem necessary for the suppression of such insurrection, domestic violence, or combinations; and any person who shall be arrested under the provisions of this and the preceding section shall be delivered to the marshal of the proper district to be dealt with according to law.

SECTION 4. That whenever in any State, or part of a State, the unlawful combinations named in the preceding section of this act shall be organized and armed, and so numerous and powerful as to be able, by violence, to either overthrow or set at defiance the constituted authorities of such State, and of the United States within such State, or when the constituted authorities are in complicity with, or shall connive at, the unlawful purposes of such powerful and armed combinations; and whenever, by reason of either or both of the causes aforesaid, the conviction of such offenders and the preservation of the public safety shall become in such district impracticable, in every such case such combinations shall be deemed a rebellion against the government of the United States, and during the continuance of such rebellion, and within the limits of the district which shall be so under the sway thereof, such limits to be prescribed by proclamation, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, when in his judgment the public safety shall require it, to suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus to the end such rebellion may be overthrown: Provided, That all the provisions of the second section of an act entitled "An act relating to habeas corpus, and regulating judicial proceeding in certain cases," approved March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, which relate to the discharge of prisoners other than prisoners of war, and to the penalty for refusing to obey the order of the court, shall be in full force so far as the same are applicable to the provisions of this section: Provided further, That the President shall first have made proclamation, as now provided by law, commanding such insurgents to disperse: And provided also, That the provisions of this section shall not be in force after the end of the next regular session of Congress.

SECTION 5. That no person shall be a grand or petit juror in any court of the United States upon any inquiry, hearing, or trial of any suit, proceeding, or prosecution based upon or arising under the provisions of this act who shall, in the judgment of the court, be in complicity with any such combination or conspiracy; and every such juror shall, before entering upon any such inquiry, hearing, or trial, take and subscribe an oath in open court that he has never directly or indirectly counseled, advised, or voluntarily aided any such combination or conspiracy; and each and every person who shall take this oath, and shall therein swear falsely, shall be guilty of perjury, and shall be subject to the pains and penalties declared against that crime, and the first section of the act entitled "An act defining additional causes of challenge and prescribing an additional oath for grand and petit jurors of the United States courts," approved June seventeenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 6. That any person or persons having knowledge that any of the wrongs conspired to be done and mentioned in the second section of this act are about to be committed, and having power to prevent or aid in preventing the same, shall neglect or refuse so to do, and such wrongful act shall be committed, such person or persons shall be liable to the person injured, or his legal representatives, for all damages caused by any such wrongful act which such first-named person or persons by reasonable diligence could have prevented; and such damages may be recovered in an action on the case in the proper circuit court of the United States, and any number of persons guilty of such wrongful neglect or refusal may be joined as defendants in such action: Provided, That such action shall be commenced within one year after such cause of action shall have accrued; and if the death of any person shall be caused by any such wrongful act or neglect, the legal representatives of such deceased person shall have such action therefor, and may recover not exceeding five thousand dollars damages therein, for the benefit of the widow of such deceased person, if any there be, or if there be no widow, for the benefit of the next kin of such deceased person.

SECTION 7. That nothing herein contained shall be construed to supersede or repeal any former act or law except so far as the same may be repugnant thereto; and any offenses heretofore committed against the tenor of any former act shall be prosecuted, and any proceedings already commenced for the prosecution thereof shall be continued and completed, the same as if this act had not been passed, except so far as the provisions of this act may go to sustain and validate such proceedings.

Approved April 20, 1871.

Carpet-Bag Financiering.

THE manner in which the reconstructed authorities of the South have administered the finances of their respective States may be seen from the subjoined exhibits:

ALABAMA.—In 1861, the State debt was $3,445,000, and the contingent liabilities, arising from a guarantee of State bank-notes, were $4,500,000. In 1871, the debt was $8,761,917, and the contingent liabilities, from indorsement of railroad bonds, $44,400,000; actual indorsements, $28,400,000; authorized, $16,000,000. In 1866, the State taxes amounted to $676,476.54; in 1871, to $970,934.32.

ARKANSAS.—In 1861, the State debt was $2,084,179.99; in 1871, it was $7,998,000; and the contingent liabilities, actual and authorized, were $11,400,000—State aid railroad bonds issued, $3,600,000; issuable, $7,800,000. For 1865, 1866, and five months of 1864, the aggregate cost of the State government was $170,000; and in 1866, the auditor reported, "I am satisfied that $200,000 will meet the ordinary expenses of the State for the two succeeding years." In 1870, the taxes were $743,627.70.

FLORIDA.—In 1861, the State debt was $370,617. In 1871, it was $1,237,587.89, and the contingent liabilities were $14,560,000—State aid railroad bonds issued, $4,000,000; issuable, $10,560,000. From 1845 to 1861, the State taxes average $83,491.31 per annum; in 1871, they rose to $471,811.51 for that one year. A convention of the taxpayers of this State, which met in August, 1871, said, "The county and municipal taxes will equal, if they do not exceed, those imposed by the State, and thus there will be wrung from the people during the present year a sum nearly or quite $1,000,000. After the actual cost of production, there will not remain in the hands of producers a sufficient amount to pay the taxes upon their property, thus leaving them without the means of support for their families and employees for the ensuing year."

GEORGIA.—In 1861, the State debt was $2,670,750. Nov. 9, 1871, the treasurer reports it $12,560,500. The contingent liabilities at the same date were—State and railroad bonds issued, $7,108,000; issuable, $22,892,000. As to the State bonds, the treasurer says, "Governor Bullock had other large amounts under the same act engrossed and sent him. But this office does not know what has become of them." Of the State aid obligation, he says, "There may be State aid bonds issued not known to this office."

LOUISIANA.—In 1861, the State debt was $11,000,000; in 1871, it was $25,021,734.61, and the contingent liabilities, arising from State aid railroad bonds issuable, $15,000,000. Owing to the rapid increase of the debt in this State, an amendment to the constitution limiting its amount to $25,000,000 was adopted in 1870.

MISSISSIPPI.—In 1861, there was no State debt, and the cost of carrying on the State government was $350,000. Owing to the peculiar financial status of Mississippi, growing out of some acts of repudiation years before the war, the reconstructed authorities have been unable to issue bonds, but the expenses of the State government have risen to $1,300,000 per annum, with a deficit of $1,697,431 for the first eighteen months of the present régime. The expenses of the legislative department have risen from $56,909 in 1861, to $260,000, in 1871; of the executive from $13,716 to $34,800, or, including a secret service fund of $50,000, to $84,800; and of the judiciary from $144,565 to $328,000.

NORTH-CAROLINA.—In 1861, the State debt was $8,761,245, and the contingent liabilities in the shape of internal improvement bonds issuable, $3,928,000. In 1871, the debt was $12,752,464.45, and the contingent liabilities, $22,135,000. In his message of October 20th, 1871, the governor says, "The new bonds were sold, nearly all of them, at ruinous rates—many bringing only from ten to thirty cents in currency; very many were sold under circumstances which ought to have put prudent men on their guard—sold in a reckless and gambling manner. . . . . I am forced, reluctantly, to conclude that the people can not bear the necessary taxation without being deprived of their property, and in some cases of even the necessaries of life."

SOUTH-CAROLINA.—In 1861, the State debt was $4,407,958.98. November 1, 1870, the State treasurer reported it as $7,665,908.98. September 20, 1871, the governor reported it as $9,528,564.10. November 28, 1871, he reported it in his message as $11,994,908, with $3,773,000 additional out in bonds as collateral. The contingent liabilities in 1871, arising from the indorsement of railroad bonds, were given by the governor as $6,712,608.20. On the 6 of November, 1871, the governor, in a card to the public, published in the World, stated that there had then been printed $28,580,000 of bonds and stocks, $13,080,000 of which had been issued "to pay the indebtedness of the State," and "for the conversion of its securities." In his message of Nov. 28, 1871, he reports, in addition to the $28,580,000 of bonds and stocks printed, a balance of $2,500,000 sterling bonds printed, making the aggregate of bonds and stocks prepared $31,080,000, to pay or convert a debt of $11,994,908. In 1860, the State taxes were $392,000; in 1870, they rose to $1,670,063.

TEXAS.—In 1861, Texas had no State debt, and a contingent liability of $2,000,000. In 1860, the tax rate was sixteen and a half cents on the $100, and the total amount of the State tax was $298,859. In 1871, the debt was $930,000, and the contingent liabilities, arising from the indorsement of railroad bonds, were $14,000,000. The rate of taxation for 1871 was given by the State comptroller as $2.25 on the $100, and the assessment of taxes for the same year as $5,837,953.88. For the two years 1860 and 1861, the appropriations for the support of the State government were $499,988.63; for the two years 1870 and 1871, they amounted to $3,752,875.78.

VIRGINIA.—In 1861, the State debt was $33,248,141.63, mostly in the form of contingent liabilities arising from the indorsement of internal improvement bonds. In 1871, the debt was $6,983,399, and the liabilities, $40,107,467. In 1867, the State tax amounted to $1,712,070.21; in 1870, to $2,475,740. It is proper to add that were the fifty-three counties severed from Virginia, and erected into the State of West-Virginia, to bear their proportional part of the indorsement obligations, the entire debt and liabilities of Virginia would be $31,393,910, instead of the $47,390,839.96 which now appear.

The aggregate of these debts exhibits a startling increase, thus:

	Debts and Liabilities.
State.	Old.	New.	Increase.
Alabama.....	$7,945,000	$52,761,917	$44,816,917
Arkansas.....	2,084,179	19,398,000	17,313,821
Florida.....	370,617	15,797,587	15,426,970
Georgia.....	2,670,750	42,560,500	39,889,750
Louisiana	11,000,000	40,021,734	29,021,734
Mississippi.....	None.	1,697,431	1,697,431
North-Carolina.	12,689,245	34,887,464	22,198,219
South-Carolina.	4,407,958	22,480,516	18,072,558
Texas.....	2,000,000*	14,930,000	12,930,000
Virginia.....	33,248,141	47,090,866	13,842,725
Total.....	$76,415,890	$291,626,015	$215,210,125

Thus the debts of the reconstructed States aggregate $291,626,015, while the aggregate debt of all the other States, twenty-seven in number, is given by the last official reports as $203,872,552. The increase in the indebtedness of the reconstructed States from the initiation of the congressional scheme of reconstruction is $12,000,000 more than the aggregate indebtedness of all the other States. It will be borne in mind that the debts of the Southern States contracted from 1861 to 1865, were repudiated by order of the federal government, so that the increase shown is altogether due to carpet-bag financiering.

Civil Service Reform.

THE Constitution of the United States, in treating of the President, says, Art. II., sec. 2, par. 2, "He shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law. But the Congress may, by law, vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments." Nothing is said about removals, other than in cases of impeachment, and for the first forty years of the government under the constitution the tenure of office was practically during good behavior. Washington removed but nine persons in the eight years of his administration; Jefferson, thirty-nine; Madison, five; Monroe, nine; and John Quincy Adams, two—none for party reasons. With the inauguration of President Jackson, in 1829, a different policy prevailed. It was announced that "to the victors belong the spoils," and from that time to the present the employments of the federal government have been a party fund. The party in power has used the offices to keep in power, and the party out of power has, upon coming in, made a clean sweep of the incumbents and conferred their places on friends of its own. To correct the very great demoralization occasioned by this policy, by removing the offices of the general government from the arena of politics, is the object of the proposed civil service reform. Jan. 29, 1867, Mr. Thomas A. Jenckes, of Rhode Island, reported to the United States House of Representatives, from a joint select committee on retrenchment, a bill to regulate the civil service of the United States and to promote the efficiency thereof by requiring that all appointments of civil officers, except postmasters and such officers as are subject to confirmation by the Senate, be made from those persons found best qualified by an open and competitive examination before a special commission. May 14, 1868, Mr. Jenckes again brought the subject to the attention of the House by a bill to institute a department of the civil service, with the Vice-President as head, the duties of said commission to be the examination of applicants for office, reporting the names of those best qualified, and the trial of any office-holder on charges affecting his competency. No definite action, however, was taken upon these or any other suggestions of reform until the close of the Forty-first Congress, when this section was added to the Civil Appropriations Act, approved March 3, 1871: "SEC. 9. That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations for the admission of persons into the civil service of the United States as will best promote the efficiency thereof, and ascertain the fitness of each candidate in respect to age, health, character, knowledge, and ability for the branch of service into which he seeks to enter; and for this purpose the President is authorized to employ suitable persons to conduct said inquiries, to prescribe their duties, and to establish regulations for the conduct of persons who may receive appointments in the civil service." Under this authority the President appointed, June 4, 1871, the following commissioners: George William Curtis, of New York; Joseph Medill, of Chicago; Ex-Senator Alexander G. Cattell, of New-Jersey; Dawson A. Walker, of Philadelphia; E. B. Elliott, of the U. S. Treasury Department; and Joseph H. Blackfan, of the Post-Office Department. David C. Cox was subsequently appointed. June 28, the board met and organized by the election of George William Curtis as Chairman, and E. B. Elliott, Secretary. All the members were present, and unanimously agreed that their duties were merely advisory and recommendatory. July 3, the board came to the conclusion that the section under which they were appointed takes all the appointing power now vested in the heads of departments and other bureau officials, and consolidates it in the hands of the President. July 8, the board resolved to consult the Attorney-General as to whether the designation of any person for appointment by a board not established by the constitutional appointing power would not vest the appointing power in hands not recognized by the constitution. Aug. 31, Attorney-General Akerman gave his opinion on the point thus: "That a rule, whether prescribed by Congress, or by the President, in pursuance of authority given by Congress, that a vacant civil office must be given to the person who is found to stand foremost in a competitive examination, in effect makes the judges in that examination the appointing power to that office, and thus contravenes the constitutional provisions on the subject of appointments." This decision being in effect that nothing constitutional could be done under the section herein before given, the board confined its attention chiefly to an inquiry into the present condition of the departments at Washington and a general investigation and study of the civil service of foreign countries. Dec. 18, the commission made its report to the President, who, on the 19th, transmitted it to Congress, with an accompanying message. The report says, "The honest competitive examination is the only fundamental security against the power of mere patronage." And then refers to the Attorney-General's opinion that it is not within the constitutional power of Congress to prescribe "that a vacant civil office must be given to the person who is found to stand foremost in a competitive examination." The commissioners further say, "The power of removal, which, in our judgment, is essential to the highest efficiency of the service, is left untouched." Accompanying the report are thirteen rules, which the board recommends the President to adopt. By these, the President is to appoint three examiners in each department, to recommend persons to him for appointment or promotion therein. In his message the President says, "These rules have been adopted and will go into effect on the first day of January, 1872." Also, "The authority is already invested in the executive to enforce these regulations, with full power to abridge, alter, or amend them at his option," and "the rules prescribed by the commission, under the reservation already mentioned, will be faithfully executed." It will be thus seen that nothing obligatory has been done in the way of a civil service reform, and that, despite the act of March 3, 1871, and the institution and report of the Civil Service Commission, the President is just where he was before such legislation or action—fully empowered to appoint to and remove from the civil service without further restriction than such as he may see fit to impose on himself. All is as before.

The Destruction of American Commerce.

THE flourishing condition of American commerce prior to the war is well known. Shipbuilding was a lucrative and growing business, and the increase of our tonnage was such as to give England cause to fear for her maritime supremacy. In 1850, the total registered and enrolled American tonnage was 3,535,454 tons; in 1860, it was 5,353,868 tons, an increase of 1,818,414 tons, or some 35 per cent. At the customary cost of $60 per ton, this put $109,104,840 into the channels of trade in the ten years from 1850 to 1860, and as 351,984 additional tons of shipping were built on foreign order for foreign use, a further sum of $21,119,040 was brought into the United States from abroad. Had this same measure of prosperity been vouchsafed from 1860 to 1870, the total registered and enrolled American tonnage in 1870 would have been 7,227,721 tons; the increase from 1860 would have been 1,873,853 tons, or, putting $112,431,180 in the channels of home industry, and the foreign tonnage orders would have aggregated 475,178 tons, bringing into the United States $28,510,680 from abroad. Far from it is the fact. The total registered and enrolled American tonnage in 1870 was but 3,946,149 tons, or a falling off of 1,407,719 tons from 1860, and only 410,695 tons more than in 1850. Instead of American tonnage adding one third to itself from 1860 to 1870, it decreased over one fourth of itself. This decrease, and every other evidence of the decayed state of American commerce, is frequently asserted to be a result of the war. It is said that the injury done the commerce by Confederate cruisers was so great that it is not surprising it should exhibit languor and decrepitude. To ascertain the force of this argument, it will be necessary to consider how much of the decrease took place during the war, and how much after the war. July 1, 1861, the total registered and enrolled American tonnage was 5,539,813 tons; July 1, 1865, the same tonnage was 5,096,781 tons, showing that for the four years of the war the decrease was but 443,032 tons. Five years after the war, or July 1, 1870, the total registered and enrolled American tonnage was 4,246,507 tons, a decrease of 850,274 tons from the tonnage of 5,096,781 tons, July 1, 1865. To put this in tabular form:

	Tonnage.	Decrease.
July 1, 1861	5,539,813 tons
July 1, 1865	5,096,781 "	443,032 tons.
July 1, 1870	4,246,507 "	850,274 "
1861—1870		1,293,306 tons.

Or, in the first five years after the war, the decrease was over two and a half times what it was during the four years of the war. Sixty-six per cent (66-100) of the entire decrease in American shipping from 1861 to 1870 took place after the war. The occasion of this decrease is to be found in the existing tariff. Iron has to a great degree superseded the use of wood as a ship-building material, and steam has taken the place of sail. Upon all forms of iron so heavy an import duty has been laid that the cheap foreign article is almost excluded from the United States, and under cover of the monopoly thus created the domestic iron interest has raised the price of the article to such figures that American ship-builders can not compete with those abroad. To cover the greater cost of manufacture, an American-built ship should charge more than the market freight, and as this can not be done, home ship-building languishes. The business for which ships are built is shut out from American builders by congressional law. Besides the iron difficulty, the tariff presents others in the shape of its onerous duties on almost every other article required in ship-building, and finally the coup de grace is given American commerce by such a refusal of register to foreign-built ships as forbids the citizen of the United States from purchasing a vessel abroad. He can not profitably build his ship at home, and is not allowed to purchase one in Europe. Under the operation of this commercial code, American shipping, which was seventy-one per cent (71-100) of all the shipping entered and cleared in the ports of the United States in 1860, fell off in 1869 to but thirty-nine per cent (39-100) of such tonnage. Further, in 1860, the direct trade between the United States and the United Kingdom was carried on in a shipping aggregating 3,356,614 tons, thus divided: American, 2,245,234; British, 945,668; all other, 165,712. In 1868, the like tonnage was 3,173,991 tons; American 714,213; British, 2,103,872; all other, 355,696. British shipping increased 1,158,204 tons; and French, North-German, and other, 189,984; while American had fallen off 1,531,021. What the United States lost their maritime rivals gained. In 1860, there entered and cleared in the ports of the United Kingdom 3,020,069 tons of American shipping, and in 1868, but 1,021,746, a decrease of sixty-six per cent (66-100) in eight years. In 1861, there entered and cleared in United States ports 3,715,538 tons of British shipping, and in 1869, like shipping to the amount of 8,848,142 tons, an increase of one hundred and thirty-eight per cent (138-100) in eight years. The money value of shipping has already been mentioned as $60 per ton, and at this rate the decrease in American shipping from 1865 to 1870 is a loss of $69,037,920. In 1860, seventy per cent (70-100) of freights were American; in 1870, but twenty-nine per cent (29-100;) or where American freights should have aggregated $700,000,000, they reached but $290,000,000, the missing $410,000,000 going into foreign pockets. In 1854, eighty-seven per cent (87-100) of the passenger traffic was borne by American ships; in 1868, but six per cent (6-100.) At the rate of passenger travel in 1869, American vessels earned but $1,260,000 instead of $18,240,000 of the $21,000,000 paid in fares. American ships meaning only American pockets, these losses represent the sums which, under a wiser and better system of commercial law than that which now prevails under Republican auspices, might be had and enjoyed by the citizens of the United States instead of going to enrich the subjects of foreign powers. Nor is it alone in our foreign trade and ocean shipping that loss and decay appear. While the population of the United States increased twenty-three per cent from 1860 to 1870, the coastwise tonnage, which is a legalized monopoly of American citizens, and the cod and mackerel fisheries tonnage have fallen off, as the subjoined table will show:

	Coastwise tonnage.	Cod fishery tonnage.	Mackerel fishery tonnage.
1860-61.....	2,657,292 tons.	127,310 tons.	80,596 tons.
1869-70.....	2,595,328 tons.	82,612 tons.	31,498 tons.
Decrease of tonnage monopolized by U. S. citizens.	61,964 tons.	44,698 tons.	49,098 tons.
Total.....	.....	.....	155,760 tons.

The Santo Domingo Job.

SANTO DOMINGO, of the Dominican Republic, is the eastern or Spanish portion of the island of Hayti, as the Republic of Hayti is the western or French part. Its area is 17,826 square miles and its population about 150,000, mostly of mixed white and negro blood. The history of President Grant's attempt to bring about the annexation of this country to the United States is briefly as follows: June 2, 1869, the President appointed as a special agent to obtain information respecting the Dominican Republic Mr. Benjamin S. Hunt, of Philadelphia, who declined. On the 13th of July following, Brig. Gen. Orville E. Babcock, one of the President's White House attachés, was appointed, and sailed from New-York on the 17th. On the 4th of September, General Babcock negotiated with Manuel Maria Gautier, the Dominican Secretary of State, a preliminary treaty in six articles; article first reading, "His Excellency General Grant, President of the United States, promises privately to use all his influence in order that the idea of annexing the Dominican Republic to the United States may acquire such a degree of popularity among members of Congress as will be necessary for its accomplishment, and he offers to make no communication to that body on the subject until he shall be certain that it will be approved by a majority." By the third article the President bound himself "to remit forthwith to the Dominican government the sum of $150,000 in coin, $100,000 to be in coin and $50,000 to be in arms;" and by the fourth article it was provided that the United States should extend a protectorate over the Dominican Republic during the annexation negotiations. General Babcock having reported his action, it was approved by the President, and the general sent back to Santo Domingo to negotiate a definitive treaty. This was concluded with the Dominican

President, Baez, Nov. 29, 1869. The announcement did not meet with favor from the American people. In particular, it was alleged that under the treaty the United States would be compelled to assume a debt of unknown magnitude, every new ruler of Santo Domingo for years past issuing fresh certificates of indebtedness, and to redeem at par in gold obligations which had been purchased by speculators for a song. May 31, 1870, President Grant accordingly sent in to the Senate a message recommending that body to so amend the treaty as to forbid the assumption by the United States of a greater amount of Dominican debt than $1,500,000. In the same message he said he had information "that a European power stands ready now to offer $2,000,000 for the possession of Samana Bay alone, if refused by us." June 30, 1870, the treaty was rejected by the Senate, the vote standing 28 to 28, being 28 less than the requisite two thirds. The Senators voting for the treaty were Abbott, Anthony, Cameron, Cattell, Chandler, Conkling, Cole, Corbett, Drake, Fenton, Harlan, Hamlin, Howard, Howell, McDonald, Morton, Nye, Osborn, Ramsey, Revels, Rice, Sprague, Spencer, Stewart, Thayer, Warner, Williams, and Wilson. Against the treaty were Senators Boreman, Casserly, Davis, Edmunds, Ferry, Fowler, Hamilton of Maryland, Harris, Howe, Johnston, McCreery, Morrill of Maine, Morrill of Vermont, Patterson, Pool, Pratt, Robertson, Ross, Sawyer, Saulsbury, Schurz, Scott, Stockton, Sumner, Thurman, Tipton, Vickers, and Willey. (Democrats in italics.) Despite this rejection, so much of the preliminary treaty as provided for a protectorate by the United States over Santo Domingo has been treated as of force from that time till the present, December, 1871, by President Grant. The President in his annual message, Dec. 5, 1870, again urged the annexation of Santo Domingo, suggesting that a commission be authorized by joint resolution to visit that country and negotiate a treaty looking to that end. From Jan. 4 to 12, 1871, this recommendation was warmly debated, Senators Sumner and Schurz leading the opposition, and on the latter day a resolution was adopted authorizing the President to appoint three commissioners to visit Santo Domingo and report on the general condition of that republic, its political state, population, desire for annexation, material resources, debt, treaty obligations, and number and nature of grants to foreigners. Subjoined to the resolutions was a proviso thus, "That nothing in these resolutions contained shall be held, understood, or construed as committing Congress to the policy of annexing the territory of said republic of Dominica." The commissioners appointed were Benjamin F. Wade, Andrew D. White, and Samuel G. Howe. Jan. 17, 1871, the commission sailed from New-York, and on the 24th arrived at Samana Bay and began their inquiries. Feb. 18, the commissioners "interviewed" President Baez, who denied promising any one any thing for facilitating annexation, but said he had offered General Babcock a grant of land, which he had refused. April 5, the commissioners made their report to the President. This report says, Santo Domingo is subject to insurrections, and some were then raging; that the population is "mixed in every conceivable degree;" that there are few schools in the republic, and consequently the great majority of the people are uneducated; that there is but one printing-office in the country; that the population does not exceed 150,000; that there is some mineral wealth, and some of the arable land can be tilled without artificial irrigation; that almost yearly, slight shocks of earthquake appear; that the virulence of the yellow-fever is overrated; that "hurricanes are not unfrequent;" that the debt, so far as ascertainable, was $1,565,831; and that the Dominican Republic had no diplomatic relations with any other power than the United States, and had made no grants to any other government. Taken altogether, the report is a meagre document and establishes little beyond the fact of Santo Domingo being a country of ignorant mixed breeds who have no particular desire for annexation. April 5, the President submitted this report to Congress in a message which says that, as charges of corruption had been made in this matter against "the President or those employed by him," an investigation became necessary, and in the report of the commissioners he transmitted one "which fully indicates the purity of the motives and action of those who represented the United States in the negotiation." The message concludes, "And now my task is finished, and with it ends all personal solicitude upon the subject." Since the date of this document nothing further has been done toward annexation, but also nothing less, for the protectorate is maintained up to the present hour. After negotiating the treaty of Nov. 29, 1869, General Babcock writes Dec. 3, 1869, to Capt. Bruce, of the U. S. frigate Nantasket, "Should you find any foreign intervention intended, you will use all your force to carry out to the letter the guarantees given in the treaties." Jan. 29, 1870, Rear-Admiral Poor was ordered to Hayti with the Severn and Dictator, with instructions, "If the Haytiens attack the Dominicans with their ships, destroy or capture them." Feb. 20, 1870, Mr. Perry, U. S. Consul, tells the State Department, "If the United States ships were withdrawn, he (Baez) could not hold the reins of the government. I have told him this." As reported to Congress, the U. S. war vessels kept on the Santo Domingo coast are the Severn, Dictator, Congress, Nantasket, Swatara, Yantic, Saugus, Terror, Albany, Nipsic, Seminole, and Tennessee, twelve vessels with 102 heavy guns, mostly 60-pounders and 11-inch. In his speech on the Santo Domingo question, March 27, 1871, Senator Sumner, who was ejected from the chairmanship of the Committee of Foreign Relations, for opposing the presidential scheme, pronounced this to be open war waged by executive usurpation.

Minority Representation.

UNDER our existing electoral system, if there are, say, three representatives to be chosen by a constituency made up of 10,000 voters of one party and 20,000 voters of another, the 20,000 will secure all the representation, and the 10,000 have none. The voters standing as one to two, the representatives should stand the same. The 10,000 voters should have one of the three members, and the 20,000 the other two. To bring about such a proportional representation, is the aim of what is variously known as minority, proportional, personal, or totality representation. Differing somewhat in detail, all agree in the main idea that representation, to be just, should give every opinion or interest in the community a voice in the law-making proportionate to its extent. The community being composed of 120,000 Democrats, 100,000 Republicans, 30,000 free-traders, 20,000 protectionists, and 10,000 fusionists, with 28 representatives to be chosen, the representative body should be made up of 12 Democrats, 10 Republicans, 3 free-traders, 2 protectionists, and 1 fusionist. To effect this proportional representation, various processes are proposed, chief among them the preferential vote or Hare scheme, the cumulative vote, and the limited vote. By the preferential vote, the elector votes for as many candidates as there are persons to be chosen, indicating upon his ballot the order of his preference among the candidates for whom he votes—as that A is his first choice, B his second, and so on. The whole number of votes cast is divided by the number of persons to be chosen, to obtain the quo'a or number of votes necessary to elect any given candidate, and the counting of the ballots is then conducted as follows: All the first choices are read, and if any candidate appears as first choice a quota number of times, he is elected, all votes in excess of said quota going to the credit of the second choice on the same ballots. The first choices having been thus disposed of, the second choices are read under the same rules, and so on till the required number of quotas appear. This system was originated by a M. Andræ, of Denmark, in which kingdom it is now the basis of the electoral law; but from the fact that Mr. Thomas Hare, of England, first brought the method to the attention of England and America in an elaborate work, it is ordinarily known as the Hare scheme. By the cumulative, or, as it is sometimes termed, the free vote, each elector has as many votes as there are members to be chosen, and may divide those votes equally or unequally among several candidates, or cumulate them—whence the name of the system—upon one. If six members are to be elected, the voter may give one vote to each of six candidates, as now, or two each to three, or three to two, or six to one, or in other proportions as he may see fit. Mr. James Garth Marshall, of England, is the author of this plan, which is the method of voting ordained by law in the school elections of England and the town elections in Pennsylvania, and with this year, 1872, is to apply to the election of members of the Illinois House of Representatives. By the limited vote each elector has a less number of votes than there are persons to be chosen. If there are three members to be chosen, he can vote for but two; if five, for three, and so on. This plan is applied by act of parliament to what are known as "three-cornered constituencies"—that is, those which elect three members—and is also in use for the city of London, which returns four. Besides these main plans, there are others, as the list vote, the substitute vote, the proxy vote, the double election, the New-York scheme, and Mr. Fisher's plan, none of which are here described, as not having been reduced to practice. The propriety of some form can be best seen by an exhibit of the operations of the present system. In the elections for the Fortieth Congress, twenty-six States then voting, the total Democratic vote was 1,825,928, and the total Republican vote 2,179,645, making an aggregate of 4,005,573. There being 191 members to be elected, every 20,971 votes cast should have been represented by a member, at which rate the House would have stood 88 Democrats to 103 Republicans. Instead of this, it stood 49 Democrats to 142 Republicans, showing a disproportionate instead of a proportional representation. Further than this, as the Democratic minorities in Republican districts, and the Republican in Democratic, were entirely unrepresented, it appears that 1,669,956 voters had not a single representative, that being the aggregate of the minorities in all the districts. In the same way, 2,552,078 voters in the elections for the Forty-first Congress had not a single representative, and 2,194,570 in the elections for the Forty-second. As a constant rule applying to each of these three elections, two voters out of every five received no representation whatever. Such representation as was obtained was highly disproportionate to the votes cast, as may be seen from the subjoined exhibit of the party votes cast, the number of members which each actually obtained, and the number to which each was proportionately entitled:

	VOTE		REPRESENTATION.
			Actual.	Prop'l.
Congress.	Dem.	Rep.	D. R.	D. R.
40th	1.828,928	2,179,645	49 142	88 103
41st	2.899,168	3.177,245	83 150	115 127
42d	2,741,860	2,685,374	107 135	122 120

The aggregates of represented and unrepresented voters at the same elections are as follows:

Congress.	Represented.	Members.	Unrepresented.	Members.
40th	2.335,617	192	1,669,956	None
41st	3.521,335	242	2,552,078	None
42d	2,920,664	242	2,194,570	None

With mathematical nicety it appears that three fifths of the total Congressional vote secures all the representation. To correct this injustice in municipal and State as well as federal elections—for in the former as in the latter this new form of the three fifths rule will be found to apply—is the object of minority representation.

President Grant's Nepotism.

THE following is the list of the relatives of President Grant who are feeding at the public crib, as revised by the President's New-York organ:

Jesse Root Grant, President's father, Postmaster at Covington, Ky.

Rev. M. J. Cramer, President's brother-in-law, Minister to Denmark.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. F. T. Dent, President's brother-in-law, Chief Usher at the Executive Mansion.

George W. Dent, President's brother-in-law, Appraiser of Customs, San Francisco.

John Dent, President's brother-in-law, Indian Trader for New-Mexico, under Indian Bureau; place worth $100.000 a year.

James F. Casey, President's brother-in-law,

Collector of the Port of New-Orleans; place worth $30,000 a year.

Alexander Sharpe, President's brother-in-law, Marshal of the District of Columbia.

Silas Hudson, President's own cousin, Minister to Guatemala.

Orlando H. Ross, President's own cousin, clerk in the Third Auditor's office, Washington.

Peter Casey, President's brother-in-law's own brother, Postmaster at Vicksburg, Miss.

Frederick Dent Grant, President's son, Second Lieutenant Fourth Cavalry.

S. T. Lambert, M.D., second cousin of the President, Receiver of Public Moneys in Oregon.

Alexander Sharpe, Jr., son of President's brother-in-law, cadet at Annapolis.

Squandering the Public Domain.

ACCORDING to the report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office the public domain already disposed of and remaining on hand is as follows:

	Acres.
Granted to railroads	27,453,521 87
Granted to railroads, but not yet selected	163,496,626 23
Sold	158,433,620 38
Entered under Homestead Law and granted for military services	73,278,902 44
Disposed of in other ways	179,546,191 37
Remaining on hand	1,232,789,537 71

The figures of the last item appear to be enormous. They are always paraded whenever land enough for a small empire is asked by some new railroad company, and it is no wonder that our public domain should really seem "practically inexhaustible." For this vast area is larger than the whole of Europe, inclusive of Russia. But when we come to look closely at the homestead possibilities of these figures, their grandeur begins to melt away. In the first place, we must deduct the 369,000,000 acres of Alaska, for that territory can never be of much avail for agricultural purposes; next, the water surface of all the land States and territories, (exclusive of Alaska,) which can not be less than 100,000,000 acres. Still further, we must deduct the amount which will be given under existing laws to the States yet to be erected, and which has been granted and reserved for other purposes, which can not fall short of 100,000,000 acres, leaving a net area of 650,000,000—less than half the gross amount of public land reported by the commissioner.

When we come to consider what this land is, the magnificence of our first conception is subject to still further curtailment. For it includes that portion of the United States which is of the least value for agricultural purposes. It includes the three greatest mountain chains of the continent, the dry, elevated plains of the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, and the arid, alkali-cursed stretches of the great interior basin, and it includes, too, a great deal of land in the older land States which has been passed by by the settler as worthless. Taking every thing into consideration, and remembering that by the necessities of their construction the railroads follow the water-courses, and therefore get the best land, and that it is fair to presume that other grants have also taken the best, it is not too high an estimate to assume that, out of the 650,000,000 acres left to the United States, there are at least 250,000,000 acres, which for agricultural or even grazing purposes are absolutely worthless. And thus the 1,232,789,537 acres, which make such an imposing showing in the Land Office reports, come down in round numbers to but 400,000,000 acres out of which farms can be carved; and even of this, a great proportion consists of land which can be cultivated only by means of irrigation, and of land which is only useful for grazing. To recapitulate in figures:

	Acres.
Public domain undisposed of		1,232,789,537
Alaska	369,000,000
Water surface	100,000,000
Reserved	100,000,000
Unavailable	250,000,000	819,000,000
Public Domain available		413,789,537

How long will this remain in possession of the people of the United States, if our Radical Congresses continue to give it away at the rate they have been since Radicalism became the power in the republic? Over 200,000,000 acres have been granted during the last ten years to railroads alone, while bills are now pending in Congress which call for more than there is left. The normal increase of our population, as Mr. Henry George of San Francisco shows, in his admirable pamphlet on our land policy, is 35 per cent, and at that rate, the population of the United States in 1880 will be 52,000,000, in 1900 nearly 95,000,000, in 1920, which is fifty years hence, 172,000,000. As our population increases, the public domain becomes less and less, and the prospective value of land greater and greater. And so will the desire of speculators to get hold of the land increase, and unless a change in our land policy is effected by driving the Radical Party out of power, we may expect to see the public domain passing into private hands at a constantly increasing rate. The desirable land now unsold is but 10 acres to the head of our present population. At the end of the century, if it were retained, it would be less than 5 acres to the head; and in fifty years, less than 3 acres to the head. But the danger we have to fear is not the overcrowding, so much as the monopolization of our land; not that there will not be land enough to support all, but that the land will be so high that the poor man can not buy it.

The best commentary on our national land policy is the fact, stated by a senator in a speech in Congress, that of the 447,000,000 acres disposed of by the government, not 100,000,000 have passed directly into the hands of cultivators. If we add to this amount the lands which have been granted, but not delivered, we have an aggregate of 650,000,000 acres disposed of, to but 100,000,000 acres directly to cultivators—that is to say, six sevenths of the land has been put in the hands of persons who did not want to use it themselves, but to make a profit from those who do use it.

The grants to railroad companies have been enormous. To the three Pacific roads alone, have been given 150,000,000 acres in round numbers, more than is contained in Germany, Holland, and Belgium, with their population of over fifty millions. The largest single grant—and it is a grant unparalleled in the history of the world—is that to the Northern Pacific, which aggregates some 58,000,000 acres. And this is given to a corporation, not for building a railroad for the government or the people, but for building a railroad for themselves, which they will own as absolutely as they will own the land—a railroad for the use of which both government and people must pay as much as though they had given nothing for its construction. The directors of this road estimate their grant to be worth $10 per acre on the completion of the road, or in the aggregate $580,000,000, a sum more than a fourth of the national debt. This is given away absolutely to one corporation for building a road that can not cost more than eighty millions of dollars, and building it for themselves.

How the enormous land grants to corporations have been obtained from Congress is well known. A dozen capitalists combine, they establish their agents in the lobbies of the Capitol, they buy up members of Congress with promises of stock, or land, or with cash outright. The job is rushed through both houses. Inducements are brought to bear on the Executive, or his friends, and the bill is signed. The conspirators become millionaires. The people alone are the sufferers. In this betrayal of a sacred trust, in this wanton waste of the people's property, in this wholesale plundering to enrich themselves and a score or two of heavy capitalists, the Democratic members of Congress have had no part. The record of the party has been clear and consistent in opposition to the squandering of the public domain.

How much the People Pay the Monopolists.

The above table shows the exports of eleven industries during three years of a low tariff, namely, 1858 to 1860 inclusive, and the corresponding exports of three years under the highest tariff this country has known, namely, from 1869 to 1871 inclusive. The total exports of the 11 industries in 1858–60, were $41,840,644 gold. The total corresponding exports in 1869–71, were $21,269,321 currency, or about half what they were during the low tariff period.

But there are other still more remarkable features in the above tables In 1860, when raw cotton was only worth 8c. per pound, we exported $10,943,796 gold worth of cotton goods. In 1871, when cotton was on the average 20 cents per pound, we exported $3,558,136 worth of cotton manufactures, less than a third in currency value than in 1860, and less than a fifth in quantity. In 1858–60, foreign cotton goods were only protected 24 per cent, yet we were efficient enough to compete in foreign countries to the extent of nearly $11,000,000! In 1869 71, cotton goods were protected in the average 65 per cent, and our exports in cotton manufactures fell to 3½ million dollars. In 1860, we exported $816,973 worth of carriages. In 1871, we exported $294,910 worth of carriages, or a little above a third of the former year. In short, there is but one conclusion to be reached; if the present Radical tariff holds on, we shall not be able to export any of our handicrafts, and must depend entirely upon the exports of cotton, breadstuffs, provisions, petroleum, and gold and silver, to meet our foreign indebtedness. American fabrics, under the present tariff, will follow our shipping to the dogs.

How the People are Robbed by the Tariff.

List of articles which for seventy years were regarded as necessities, but which since 1862 have been discovered to be luxuries, and are taxed accordingly. The following table of seven different tariffs is compiled from the official returns to the Secretary of the Treasury:

NOTE.—All the revenue we get from bunting is $3371.71; it is, however, a consolation to know that General Butler is the chief proprietor of the only bunting factory in the country, which is said to divide between 200 to 300 per cent profit on its capital annually. All the revenue we collected on copperas in 1870 was $4974.26. On the other hand, the iron manufacturers who produce copperas made about $1,500,000 extra profit on this article; which may console the thirty-nine million consumers. In 1870, we collected $9707.80 duties on borax; while two manufacturers, who have the monopoly of this article, cleared a quarter of a million dollars, because they were protected 67 per cent.

Wheat.—The Department of Agriculture reported the product of wheat to be about 7 per cent less than that of the previous year.

Corn.—The area planted was greater than in former years, but in consequence of drought in some localities, the crop was not larger than that of 1870. A calculation of the local estimates of 1871 gave 1,092,000,000 bushels.

Oats.—The product about as large as 1870.

Barley.—As a whole, the quality may be said to have been fully medium, and the quantity very nearly an average.

Buckwheat.—The crop was comparatively a poor one, the average condition being low in nearly all the States.

Potatoes.—The product of the whole country fell below the average.

Fattening Stock.—The number of beeves was greater than usual in most of the States.

Swine.—The number of swine to be slaughtered for the packing season of 1871–2 is estimated at 4,300,000 against 3,600,000 last season, but there is a falling off in average weight of about 10 per cent.

Acts of Congress.

Synopsis of the principal Acts and Resolutions passed at the third session of the Forty-first, and the first session of the Forty-second Congresses.

Synopsis of the principal Acts and Resolutions passed at the third session of the Forty-first, and the first session of the Forty-second Congresses.

Oath for Participants in the Rebellion.—Persons elected or appointed to office under the government of the United States, who were not rendered ineligible by the XIVth Amendment, but who are not able, on account of participation in the late rebellion, to take the oath of July 2, 1862, may take the oath prescribed by Congress, and approved July 11, 1868. [Public, No. 29, Feb. 3, 1871.]

New Government for the District of Columbia.—The District of Columbia is constituted a body corporate, for municipal purposes. Executive power is vested in a governor, appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, to hold office 4 years. Legislative power is vested in a legislative assembly, consisting of a council of 11 members, appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, and a house of delegates, of 22 members, elected by the people, the former holding office 2 years, and the latter 1 year. All acts of the legislative assembly are subject to repeal or modification by Congress. The President also appoints, and the Senate confirms, a board of health, and a board of public works. The people are authorized to elect a delegate to each Congress. The charters of the cities of Washington and Georgetown are repealed, and the District of Columbia becomes the successor of said corporations and all their property. [Public, No. 37, Feb. 21, 1871.]

Federal Supervision of Elections.—In any town or city having upward of 20,000 inhabitants, when, prior to a registration of voters, or an election for representative in Congress, two citizens shall make known in writing their desire to have the same scrutinized or guarded, it is the duty of the judge of the United States Circuit Court to open court not less than ten days before the beginning of the registration or election, and commission for each voting district 2 citizens of different political parties as supervisors of election. The Circuit Court must remain in session until the day after the election, for the transaction of all business under this act. In case of the sickness or inability of the circuit judge, the district judge may preside. Supervisors of election have the right to challenge persons offering to register, to mark against the names on the registry list, to inspect and scrutinize the registry, and for purposes of identification to affix their signatures to the same, to attend the polls and the counting of the ballots, to challenge persons offering to vote, and to scrutinize, count, and canvass the ballots cast in their respective districts. The United States marshal of the district, upon written application of 2 citizens, must appoint special deputy marshals, to aid and protect the supervisors. Persons obstructing these officials are punished by imprisonment for 2 years or less, and fine of $3000 or less. The deputy marshals may summon the bystanders to assist them. The circuit judge also appoints a chief supervisor of elections in each judicial district. [Public, No. 47, Feb. 28, 1871.]

Security of Steamboat Passengers.—Every steamboat carrying passengers must be provided with suitable means to extinguish fire. The transportation of combustible articles on the same is forbidden. A night watch must be kept, and metallic fire-proof life-boats, life-preservers, buckets, and axes must be always ready for use. Permanent stairways must be provided, to enable passengers on the main deck to escape to the upper deck. Local inspectors must carefully examine hulls, boilers, and machinery of steamboats annually, or oftener, and issue certificates if the same are approved of, and examine all captains, chief-mates, engineers, and pilots of steamboats, and issue licenses when the candidates are shown to be capable, careful, temperate, and of good character. Rejected candidates have the right of appeal to the supervising inspector. Inspectors receiving fees or rewards for performing services, except such as are allowed by law, are subject to fine and imprisonment. Steel and iron plates, designed for boilers, must be examined by inspectors, and if approved, stamped; and no other can be used. Steamboats must have their names conspicuously painted on their sterns, pilot-houses, and wheel-houses. A penalty of ten dollars will be exacted for every passenger carried over the number permitted by the inspector's certificate. In case of the destruction of life through the negligence, misconduct, or violation of law of any captain, engineer, pilot, employee, owner, or inspector of a steamboat, such guilty person shall be deemed guilty of manslaughter, and upon conviction, be punished by confinement at hard labor for 10 years or less. Heavy penalties are prescribed for all violations of the provisions of this law by steamboat owners, officers, and public officials. [Public, No. 48, Feb. 28, 1871.]

The National Centennial.—In order to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the independence of the United States, an exhibition of American and foreign arts, products, and manufactures shall be held under the auspices of the government of the United States, in Philadelphia, in 1876. The President will appoint a board of commissioners, and alternates of one from each State and Territory, upon recommendation of the governors thereof. When the President is notified that provisions have been made by the commissioners for the erection of suitable buildings, he will make public proclamation of the fact, setting forth the time the exhibition will begin, and will send copies of the same to the diplomatic representatives of other nations. [Public, No. 51, March 3, 1871.]

Renewal of lost Records.—When records of judgments, decrees, and other proceedings of United States courts, are lost or destroyed, the party or person interested, on application to the same courts, may obtain an order authorizing such defect to be supplied by duly certified copies, which shall have the same effect as the original records. Where the defect can not be supplied, the courts will hear statements as to the substance of the lost record, and if satisfied, order the same to be entered of record. [Public, No, 57, March 3, 1871.]

Texas Pacific Railroad.—John C. Fremont and others, incorporated as the Texas Pacific Railroad Company, and authorized to construct a railroad and telegraph line from Marshall, Texas, to the Bay of San Diego, in California, through Texas, New-Mexico, Arizona, and California; capital stock not to be more than $50,000,000, in shares of $100 each. Alternate sections of public land on the line of the railroad, not mineral, or otherwise reserved, are granted to aid its construction. Iron or steel rails, made from American ore, must be used, and the road completed within 10 years. [Public, No. 68, March 3, 1871.]

Preservation of the Fisheries.—The President is authorized to appoint a Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, to investigate the cause of, and prevent, the decrease of the food fishes of United States coasts and lakes. [Public Resolution No. 17, Feb. 9, 1871.]

The Overflow of the Mississippi.—The Secretary of War is authorized to have water-gauges established, and daily observations made on the Mississippi River system, as basis for the protection of the alluvial lands against overflow, and improved navigation. [Public Resolution No. 30, Feb. 21, 1871.]

Lost United States Bonds.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall issue duplicates of lost or destroyed bonds to owner, on his filing an indemnifying bond in a penal sum equal to their amount and interest. [Public Resolution No. 35, March 3, 1871.]

Enforcement of the Fourteenth Amendment.—Any person depriving another of any right secured by the constitution of the United States is liable to the party injured, by action at law. When two or more persons conspire together to overthrow or destroy the force of the government of the United States, or prevent any officer of the United States from performing his duties, or go in disguise upon the public highway, or upon the premises of another to deprive any person of rights or privileges under the law, or by force, intimidation, or threat, prevent any citizen, lawfully entitled to vote, from voting as he desires, they shall be punished by a fine not less than $500, or more than $5000, or by imprisonment not less than six months, or more than six years, or both. When the authorities of any State neglect, refuse, or are unable to secure the equal protection of the law to its citizens, it is the duty of the President to use the militia, army, or navy to enforce the laws in such State. He may also suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus. He must first make proclamation, as now provided by law, commanding the insurgents to disperse. No person can be a grand or petit juror in any United States court who is, in the judgment of the court, in complicity with any such conspiracy; and every grand or petit juror of such court must take an oath that he is not, and has not been, concerned in such conspiracy. Any person having knowledge of any wrongs defined under this act, conspired to be done against any person, shall be liable to such injured person at law. [Public, No. 17, April 20, 1871.]

International Penitentiary Congress.—The President is authorized to appoint a commissioner to attend an international penitentiary congress, to be held in Europe. [Public Resolution No. 1, March 20, 1871.]

A Monument to Morse.—Permission is granted to an association to erect a monument to Professor Morse, on Pennsylvania Avenue, in Washington. [Public Resolution No. 3, March 24, 1871.]

National Democratic Convention.

At the proper time in 1872, early or late as the political situation may require, the National Democratic Committee, of which Hon. August Belmont is Chairman, will issue a call for a National Convention of the Democratic Party, designating the time when and the place where it shall meet. Delegates to the National Convention will be elected by conventions of the party in the several States or congressional districts, as the Democratic State Central Committees of each State shall determine. In the convention, each State will cast as many votes as it has votes in the electoral college. In the National Convention of 1868, a resolution was adopted, admitting three delegates from each Territory and four from the District of Columbia to seats on the floor, without votes. In balloting for candidates for President and Vice-President, the two thirds rule was in force; a vote equal to two-thirds of the electoral vote was requisite to effect a nomination. The convention will choose a new National Democratic Committee to serve for four years, to conduct the campaign of 1872 and call the convention of 1876, and it will be the duty of the president of the convention to notify the candidates, by letter, of their nomination.

The Treaty of Washington.

THE treaty between the United States and Great Britain, to settle the differences that have arisen on account of the Alabama claims, the fisheries, the navigation of the River St. Lawrence, and the boundaries between the United States and the British North-American Possessions, was concluded May 8, 1871. Ratifications were exchanged June 17, 1871. The treaty was proclaimed July 4, 1871. The following were the members of the

JOINT HIGH COMMISSION:

On the part of the United States: Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State; Robert C. Schenck, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Great Britain; Samuel Nelson, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; Ebenezer R. Hoar, and George H. Williams.

On the part of Great Britain: Right Hon. Earl de Gray and Earl of Ripon, Lord President of Her Majesty's Privy Council; Right Hon. Sir Stafford H. Northcote, Bart., M.P.; Sir Edward Thornton, K.C.B., Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States; Sir John A. MacDonald, K.C.B., Minister of Justice in the Dominion of Canada, and Professor Mountague Bernard, of the University of Oxford.

TRIBUNAL OF ARBITRATION.

The treaty provided that all claims growing out of the acts of certain vessels, and generically known as the "Alabama claims," should be referred to a tribunal of arbitration, to be composed of five arbitrators, to be appointed by the Presidents of the United States and Switzerland, the Queen of Great Britain, the Emperor of Brazil, and the King of Italy, and to meet at Geneva, in Switzerland. All questions, including the final award, are to be decided by a majority of all the arbitrators. In case the tribunal does not award a sum in gross in settlement of the Alabama claims, a board of three assessors, appointed one by the President of the United States, one by the Queen of Great Britain, and one by the King of Italy, shall sit in Washington, New-York, or Boston, to determine what individual claims are valid. The following are the arbitrators and agents appointed under articles 1 and 2 of the treaty:

On the part of the United States: Charles Francis Adams.

On the part of Great Britain: Right Hon. Sir Alexander J. E. Cockburn, Bart., Lord Chief-Justice of England.

On the part of the King of Italy: Senator Count Sclopis.

On the part of the Emperor of Brazil: Baron de Itajuba.

On the part of Switzerland: Jacob Stampfli.

Agent to represent the United States: J. C. Bancroft Davis.

Agent to represent Great Britain: Lord Tenterden.

Counsel on the part of the United States: William M. Evarts, Benjamin R. Curtis, and Morrison R. Waite.

COMMISSION OF CLAIMS.

The treaty also provided that all claims, other than those growing out of the depredations of the Alabama, etc., against either government, should be referred to three commissioners, to be appointed one by the President of the United States, one by the Queen of Great Britain, and one by the powers conjointly, the commissioners to meet at Washington. The following are the members of the commission:

On the part of the United States: James Somerville Frazier.

On the part of Great Britain: Right Hon. Russell Gurney, M.P., Recorder of London.

Appointed by the United States and Great Britain conjointly: Count Louis Corti, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from Italy to the United States, presiding commissioner.

Solicitor for the United States: Robert S. Hale.

Solicitor for Great Britain: Honorable Henry Howard.

COMMISSION OF THE FISHERIES.

Commissioners are to be appointed, one by the President of the United States, one by the Queen of Great Britain, and one by the powers conjointly, to meet in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and determine what sum in gross, if any, the government of the United States shall pay to the government of Great Britain for the privileges accorded to the citizens of the United States, of fishing on the coasts of British North-America.

BOUNDARY ARBITRATION.

His Majesty, the Emperor of Germany, was agreed upon as arbitrator in the dispute between the United States and Great Britain, in reference to the boundary line near Vancouver's Island, his award to be considered final and conclusive. The President, in his annual message of Dec. 4, 1871, announced that His Majesty had accepted the trust.

The Presidential Election.

THE Presidential election will take place on Tuesday, November 5th, 1872. The constitution prescribes that each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in Congress; but no senator or representative or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be an elector. In all the States, except Florida, the laws thereof direct that the people shall choose the electors. In Florida, the electors are chosen by the Legislature. The constitution requires that the day when electors are chosen shall be the same throughout the United States. "The electors shall meet in their respective States and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. They shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each; which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the Senate. The president of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But, in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President. A quorum for the purpose shall consist of two thirds of the whole number of senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice." "No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years." The qualifications for Vice-President are the same.

The number of electors to which each State is entitled on the basis of the apportionment bill, passed by the House of Representatives December 14, 1871, is as follows: Maine, 7; New-Hampshire, 4; Vermont, 4; Massachusetts, 13; Rhode Island, 4; Connecticut, 6; New-York, 34; New-Jersey, 9; Pennsylvania, 28; Delaware, 3; Maryland, 8; Virginia, 11; North-Carolina, 10; South-Carolina, 8; Georgia, 11; Alabama, 9; Mississippi, 8; Louisiana, 7; Ohio, 22; Kentucky, 12; Tennessee, 11; Indiana, 14; Illinois, 21; Missouri, 15; Arkansas, 6; Michigan, 11; Florida, 3; Texas, 8; Iowa, 11; Wisconsin, 10; California, 6; Minnesota, 5; Oregon, 3; Kansas, 5; West-Virginia, 5; Nevada, 3; Nebraska, 3—total electoral vote, 320; necessary to a choice, 161. The bill had not passed the Senate when the ALMANAC went to press.

The Franco-German Treaty of Peace.

On the 26th of February, the following terms of peace were accepted by MM. Thiers and Favre and the Consultative Commission of the French National Assembly:

1. France cedes the whole of Alsace—the departments of Haut-Rhine and Bas-Rhine, with the exception of Belfort, three of the four arrondissements of the department of Moselle, in Lorraine—Thionville, Metz, and Sarreguemines, France retaining Briey, with the fortress of Longwy; and two of the five arrondissements of the departments of Meurthe—Chateau-Salins and Sarrebourg; France retaining Luneville, Nancy, and Toul.

2. France agrees to pay Germany a war indemnity of $1,000,000,000, one fifth at least in 1871, the remainder within three years after the ratification of the treaty.

3. The evacuation of France by the Germans to begin immediately. After the payment of two fifths of the indemnity, the Germans to hold only the departments of Marne, Ardennes, Meuse, Vosges, and Meurthe, and the fortress of Belfort. After the payment of three fifths, to keep only 50,000 troops in France, and none at all if sufficient money guarantees are given by the French.

4. The German troops to make no further requisitions, but the French government to supply food to the army of occupation. In the ceded departments, the inhabitants to have time to move out, if they desire.

5. All prisoners of war to be immediately liberated.

6. The management of the occupied departments to be given to French officials, subject, however, to the German commanders in the interest of the German troops.

The treaty was ratified by the Assembly, March 1, by a vote of 546 to 107.

The definitive treaty of peace was signed at Frankfort, May 10, and ratified by the Assembly at Versailles, May 18. By its provisions, the commercial treaty between the two nations was abrogated, and Germany secured the control of the railways in the ceded territory in consideration of a reduction in the war indemnity by $64,000,000.

By the Alsace-Lorraine customs treaty, France received back a small strip of territory. The treaty provided also for the payment of the remainder of the war indemnity in specie bills—$16,000,000 every fortnight, beginning January 15, 1872.

ARIZONA.

An election for Delegate to Congress was held in this Territory in 1870. The candidates were Peter R. Brady, Dem., and Richard C. McCormick, Rep., and the official returns elected McCormick by 970 majority. The Democrats claim, however, that Brady had at least 200 majority by the legal vote; that enormous frauds were committed by the Radical election managers, and that false poll-lists were used. The seat is contested by Brady.

The above tables for 1870 give the actual vote cast. The Republican Board of State Canvassers threw out the returns from the counties of Brevard, Calhoun, Dade, La Fayette, Manatee, Monroe, Sumter, Suwanee, and Taylor for alleged informalities, and thus counted in the Republican candidates for Congress and Lieutenant-Governor. By means of this manipulation, the majority for Walls (negro) for Congress was made 629, and for Day for Lieutenant-Governor, 614. The canvassers also elected a Republican Legislature by throwing out several Democratic counties.

Women voted, for the first time in the United States, at the election in Wyoming Territory, in 1870. No official record of the number of women who voted at this election can be had, but a close estimate makes the total about 600. There were two women candidates voted for in the territory. These were nominated by the Republicans of Cheyenne, Laramie County. Mrs. Phœbe Picket, for County Clerk, received 385 votes, and was defeated by 54 majority; and Mrs. M. H. Arnold, for Superintendent of Public Schools, received 334 votes, and was defeated by 155 majority. The Territorial Legislature, in its session of 1871, passed a bill repealing the act conferring the right of suffrage on women, but the governor vetoed the bill.

Rates of Postage.

LETTERS.

Letters to any part of the United States, 3 cents per half-ounce, if prepaid; over half an ounce, and prepaid a single rate, forwarded, and the balance due collected on delivery. City letters must be prepaid, 2 cents per half-ounce. Letters not called for (if prepaid) will be returned to the writer at his or her request without additional postage. Letters deposited without being properly prepaid are sent immediately to the Dead-Letter Office, Washington. Letters deposited in city lamp-post boxes must have the requisite number of stamps before placing them therein. Depositing money in the boxes does not insure their being prepaid. Newspapers are not taken at city lamp-post boxes.

NEWSPAPERS.

Transient newspapers are rated at 2 cents for every four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid. Newspapers sent from the office of publication may be prepaid at the following rates quarterly: dailies, per quarter, 35 cents; weeklies, per quarter, 5 cents; monthlies, every four ounces, per quarter, 3 cents.

BOOKS.

Postage on books, not exceeding four ounces in weight, 4 cents; each additional 4 ounces or fraction thereof, 4 cents.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTER.

On maps, prints, engravings, music, cards, photographs, types, cuttings, roots, seeds, etc., in one package to one address, prepaid, not exceeding four ounces, 2 cents; over four, and not exceeding eight ounces, 4 cents; for every additional four ounces, or fraction thereof, 2 cents.

The weight of packages is limited to 32 ounces.

CIRCULARS.

Unsealed circulars, one and not exceeding three in number in one envelope, are charged 2 cents; and in that proportion for a greater number, to one address, prepaid.

MONEY-ORDERS.

Money can be sent to any part of the country, or England or Ireland, with absolute safety, by obtaining a money-order. The fees are, on orders payable in the United States: on not less than $1, and not over $20, 10 cents; over $20, and not exceeding $50, 25 cents.

On orders payable in the United Kingdom of Great Britain or Ireland: orders not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25. No single order issued for less than $1 or more than $50. List of money-order offices may be seen at post-offices. In New-York City, the money-order office is open from 10 A.M. to 3 P.M.

FOREIGN MAIL MATTER.

Unless otherwise specified, the rates are for half an ounce of matter.

"THE WORLD."

"THE NEW-YORK WORLD is one of the best newspapers in the United States. MANTON MARBLE, who is its chief editor and manager, is one of the ablest and most cultivated men and writers in this or any other country. THE WORLD is a Democratic journal, and wields a powerful influence through its masterly discussions of all public questions, whilst as a vehicle of news, through its correspondents and otherwise, it has won its way to the front rank, and stands second to no other journal in the country.

It has been the fashion with certain Democrats to depreciate THE WORLD as a reliable representative of the Democracy, and yet the record shows that no paper has been more wise in counsel, or more able in the discussion of the great questions that have divided public sentiment during and since the war. Its recent self-vindication of the wisdom of its course in 1868 and in 1870—when it assailed and sought to overthrow Tweed and Tammany—was a masterly and unanswerable reply to those who then doubted and denounced it."—Omaha Herald.

"UNDER its present able and efficient management THE WORLD is without an equal among the political journals of the country. The ability displayed in its editorial columns is of the very highest character—indeed, we may safely assert, unequaled by any other paper—while its success in laying before its readers the latest and most reliable intelligence from all parts, not only of our own country, but of foreign nations, has given it a marked and distinguished prominence among leading American newspapers. Although THE WORLD has sometimes been in advance of Democratic sentiment on certain great questions of public policy, and its course on such occasions has been sharply criticised, yet the result has generally proven the wisdom and safety of its counsels. It has always been the fearless and outspoken foe of fraud and corruption, and especially so when found to exist in the ranks of its own party, as was the case recently with certain Democratic officials in the city of New-York. The impending struggle for the next Presidency will soon commence, and as THE WORLD will play a most conspicuous and important part in the campaign, it ought to be in the hands of every Democrat who wishes fully to understand the merits of the controversy. It offers the greatest inducements for the formation of clubs for its semi-weekly and weekly editions, which we trust will be largely embraced."—Freeman, Cambria, Pa.

"THE WORLD is the leading Democratic paper in New-York, and is in the front rank for latest and most reliable news, both domestic and foreign."—Gazette, Delhi, N. Y.

"As an exponent of intellectual culture in politics, THE NEW-YORK WORLD is probably the best organ in the United States. In the matter of news, it is generally thought to be ahead of its contemporaries, having on more than one occasion distanced its rivals in the publication of important intelligence.

The large space given to scientific matters, the careful and candid criticisms, have given THE WORLD no little popularity among educated gentlemen."—Conservative, Clarksburg, W. Va.

"THE WORLD is undoubtedly the ablest paper in the country, and although it is a little erratic sometimes, yet it generally preaches sound doctrine in a very effective way, as our readers have frequent opportunity to see from the liberal extracts we make from its well-filled columns."—Patriot, Concord, N. H.

"NOT 'the world we live in,' but THE NEW-YORK WORLD—daily, semi-weekly, and weekly—is the theme of this paragraph. This paper, it is not to be disputed, holds a front rank in journalism, whether considered from a political, literary, or news point of view. It has able editors, contributors, and correspondents, and each daily issue—publishing 365 days in the year—is a map of the world's progress. No rival excels its news department, and none is bolder or more independent in the discussion of all topics of public interest, in fact there is occasionally a Democrat who thinks it too independent."—Argus, Ann Arbor, Mich.

"A LIVE Democratic newspaper, always having the fullest and latest news, reliable in its statements, able and clear in its editorials, it has taken the foremost rank in the newspaper world. Its Democracy is of the progressive type, but pure and undoubted."—Echo, Johnstown, Pa.

"WE regard the NEW-YORK WORLD as the leading Democratic paper of the United States."—Democrat, Toledo, Ohio.

"THE LEADING NEWSPAPERS.—The NEW-YORK WORLD is the recognized organ of Northern Democratic sentiment, whatever we may think of that sentiment, or however we may regret the fact; and without THE WORLD, no Southern man can have a proper apprehension of the political feeling in that section of the country to which practically political power is restricted. As a newspaper, THE WORLD is among the first in this or any country, its numerous agents, correspondents, and commissioners keeping its readers informed, by mail and telegraph, of all important events transpiring on every part of the civilized globe."—Argus, Selma, Ala.

"THE NEW-YORK WORLD, which is decidedly the best and ablest Democratic journal ever published in the United States, will be for the year to come of especial value to all readers, no matter what their political faith may be. For current news, or expression of opinion on questions claiming public attention, we regard THE WORLD as ranking high among the very best of its contemporaries, and although we do not coincide with it in its party affiliation, we are ready to accord it manliness of utterance and great dignity of character."—Bulletin, Kansas City, Mo.

"IT is useless to speak in terms of commendation of that truly excellent journal, as all who have ever read it pronounce it the most reliable and ablest political journal in the United States."—National Banner, Ligonier, Ind.

Standard of measurement: Areas of three sections, from the water-line to the intersection of outer planking, with keel, one taken amidships, another equidistant therefrom to the stem, the third equidistant therefrom to the stern, in square feet. The cubical contents of the immersion or displacement, calculated by multiplying the sum of the areas of the three sections by one fourth of the length on water-line, in feet and decimals. The cube roots of the displacements multiplied by 100 are the basis of comparative allowances of time or apportionments.

In the club fleet are 37 schooners, 7 sloops, and 4 steamers.

This table shows which weeks in the year each variety of game and fish is in season in the New-York market; the black lines serving as indicators. The game laws of the State prohibit the sale of venison, quail, partridges, and some other kinds of game, after January 1; but in consequence of the immense supplies thrown on the market after that time from the West, the laws are not strictly enforced. The facilities now afforded by railroads and steamboats for rapid transportation of freight enable New-York market-men to keep most kinds of fresh fruits and vegetables on sale all the year round.

Fire-Alarm Boxes.

The new fire-alarm telegraph is now in use in all parts of the city lying south of 14th street. Each signal-station in the new system is made an Alarm-Station, by the location of alarm-boxes at the points indicated. Every officer and member of the fire department, every officer and member of the police department, and every officer of the fire insurance patrol, and each post of said patrol, is furnished with a key which will open any and all the boxes. A key is also left with the occupant of a building near each alarm-box, and the street number of the building in which it may be found will be posted on the box. Stations marked thus * have no alarm-boxes.

CARBOLIC SALVE.

The success that has attended the introduction of this remedy has never been equaled in any single instance before in the history of medicine; its virtues are recognized alike by rich and poor, and men of distinguished public reputation do not hesitate to give the widest publicity to their praise of so excellent an article as CARBOLIC SALVE.

Subjoined we give extracts from the letters of a few out of the many received from men whose statements and opinions are entitled to the greatest consideration, to say the least:

From D. R. LOCKE (PETROLEUM V. NASBY), of the Toledo Blade:

MR. JOHN F. HENRY:—I had on the forefinger of my right hand one of those "pleasant pets," a "run 'round." The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable, and was swollen to twice its natural size; a friend dressed it with Carbolic Salve, and in twenty minutes the pain had so much diminished as to give me a fair night's rest.

D. R. LOCKE.

From Col. H. S. OLCOTT, Special Com. of the War Department and formerly of the Tribune:

I have used Carbolic Salve myself, and have seen it used by members of my family and among my acquaintances, and in every case it was efficacious in effecting a cure. Yours truly,

H. S. OLCOTT.

From GEO. B. LINCOLN, late President of the Board of Health:

Your Carbolic Salve, a package of which you were kind enough to hand me, proves an excellent article, and I thank you for it. Yours,

GEO. B. LINCOLN.

The Carbolic Salve is sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

JOHN F. HENRY, Sole Prop., No. 8 College Place, New-York.

PARK'S BALSAM

Of WILD CHERRY and TAR,

For Coughs, Colds, and all Diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs.

The following testimonial from a well-known citizen of New-York will bear evidence of the great value of this time-tried medicine:

From the principal salesman, for seventeen years, in the wholesale establishment of A. T. Stewart & Co.:

MR. JOHN F. HENRY:—I contracted a severe cold, followed by an obstinate cough, which so completely prostrated me that I was obliged to abandon business. I had the advice of most eminent physicians, and also used many standard medicines, but still continued to grow worse; at length I commenced the use of Park's Balsam, and I am happy to say that by its use I became speedily convalescent. I feel fully persuaded that it has saved my life, and I am not only eminently well pleased with it, but my confidence in it is so great that I never fail to advise my friends to use it, and this confidence is constantly strengthened by witnessing its beneficial results whenever used. I consider it the finest thing for the voice I have ever known, and I would earnestly recommend its use by all vocalists and speakers. Yours truly,

G. S. FANCHER.

NEW-YORK.

1872. THE WORLD. 1872.

In the year 1872 General Grant's successor is to be chosen, the XLIII. Congress to be elected.

The people's votes, white and black, North and South, will thus decide the future destiny of the Republic, select its rulers, prescribe their course.

How to influence the people's votes?

By the newspaper—for it includes every other agency. It makes known events and facts—among all influences the chief. It assembles the vaster outside audiences which can not gather to the State-house, the pulpit, or the stump. It is the constant interpreter of men's affairs, and of error or truth is the daily seed-sower.

Next November is our political harvest-time. As we sow we shall reap.

THE WORLD'S seed-sowing will be fruitful to the extent that its circulation is widely pushed by those who approve its aim.

THE WORLD will aim to represent and combine the labors and the votes of

I.—All those who find best insurance of the people's prosperity, peace, and progress in a government administered on the principles and in the pure practice of the builders of the Republic, and who descry the fount and origin of the present corruptions, extravagance, misgovernment, subversion of public liberties, and insecurity of private rights, in our rulers' lawless usurpation of interdicted and undelegated powers—usurpation that to-day marches deliberately on to the subjugation of popular rule and the possession of dictatorial power—for by acts of Congress Gen. Grant may even now destroy the freedom of State elections, invade the States at his pleasure, and declare martial law of his own mere will.

II.—All those who would maintain the honor of Republics, and would preserve public credit by punctual payment of public debts.

III.—All those who would cut down to fewer and fit objects all appropriations of the people's money (to-day more than double, nearly treble, the appropriations of a Democratic Congress eleven years ago, not counting annuities to Indians, pensions to soldiers, and interest on debt), and who would oblige all spending of the people's money got by taxes to be with honesty and thrift; likewise all those who would spare a little the people's landed estate for the landless millions hereafter and stop its squandering dominions in a day upon those who already own too much.

IV.—All those who would reduce the number of commodities taxed by our tariff from thousands to a few dozens, and so empty our custom-houses of half their officials, rid the statute books of half their odious snares for honesty or bribes to fraud, and unfetter scores of our native industries.

V.—All those who would lower the rates also of our tariff taxes to the point of most easily yielding the largest revenue—who would abandon the protectionist system of reducing the public revenue whilst increasing the extortionate profits of a few at the expense of all other industries.

VI.—All those who would abolish every unlawful tax, like that on incomes; every unjust tax, like that which gives banks the people's profits on a national currency; every unequal and indeterminate tax, like that levied most cruelly upon the poor—the tax of our irredeemable paper money.

1872. THE WORLD. 1872.

THE DAILY WORLD,

the organ of the Democratic party in the focus of national commerce and intelligence, will aim to fulfill this its mission and duty with steadfast boldness and fidelity; to inspire in the ranks of those who think the same things concerning the Republic an united, organized, determined, and persistent zeal; to win new recruits from among those who have been enemies to the Democracy in the conflicts of a dead past; and to marshal an unbroken phalanx to the triumph at the ballot-box (true battle-field of republics) of Liberty, Equality, and Law.

As a Vehicle of News, THE WORLD will spare no expense, no energy, to maintain and advance its place in the first rank of metropolitan journals. Its fresh, abundant, various, and accurate news, comprising the whole circle of current intelligence and literature, will be discussed as becomes a Trustworthy Organ of Opinion, with candor, with steady devotion to sound public and private morals, with special knowledge for special themes, and with various and wide-reaching apprehension of the manifold interests of men and women in their homes, their market places, their workshops, and their farms.

THE NEW-YORK LEDGER

FOR THE NEW YEAR 1872.

THE GREAT FAMILY PAPER.

The Best without Regard to Cost.

The first number of the NEW-YORK LEDGER for the year 1872 will contain a great novelty in American literature.

We continue to conduct the LEDGER on our established rule, which is to procure and publish, without regard to money or price, the best original matter that can be had in the world.

Young men and young ladies will find the LEDGER full of advice and instruction especially intended for them, and which is calculated to influence, for good and for happiness, the whole future of their lives.

It would be as impossible for us to enumerate beforehand all the good things which we shall publish within the coming year, as to tell in advance what the weather will be for every day.

Distinguished public men, including Foreign Ministers, Members of the Cabinet, and Senators in Congress, write for the LEDGER.

More money is spent upon the LEDGER to make it a good paper than is spent upon any other paper in the world.

More people take it and like it than ever took any other paper on this continent.

It is so interesting that families who once begin to take it can never bear to give it up; and they always consider that the small price which it costs affords them more for the money than anything else that they buy.

The LEDGER is always full of life. Nobody ever complains that even a single number is dull.

It has the largest number of great and distinguished writers.

It contains the purest, sweetest, and most delightful love stories, striking narratives, and instructive biographical and historical sketches.

It has the most popular and carefully prepared collection of scientific facts.

All questions growing out of the domestic relations, lovers' quarrels, law and business matters, are regularly answered in its columns. A vast amount of useful information is given through this attractive department of the LEDGER.

Many of the most distinguished clergymen of the country write for it.

All the old writers—their names are familiar to the public, and it is needless to repeat them here—will continue to write for the LEDGER; and we have engaged, exclusively for the LEDGER, the very best and most popular of the rising authors.

Good as the LEDGER has heretofore been, the volume for 1872 will be better than any one ever yet published.

The BEST that a long experience enables us to select, and that money, without stint, can buy, will be constantly spread before the readers of the LEDGER.

OUR TERMS FOR 1872—NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Single copies, $3 per annum; four copies, $10, which is $2.50 a copy; eight copies, $20. The party who sends us $20 for a club of eight copies (all sent at one time), will be entitled to a copy free. Postmasters and others who get up clubs, in their respective towns, can afterwards add single copies at $2.50. No subscriptions taken for a less period than one year. Canada subscribers must send twenty cents in addition to the subscription, to pay the American postage. When a draft or money-order can conveniently be sent it will be preferred, as it will prevent the possibility of the loss of money by mail. The postage on the LEDGER to all parts of the country is only twenty cents a year, or five cents a quarter, payable at the office where the paper is delivered.

PLANTATION BITTERS.--S. T. 1860--X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate, or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

It is now about twelve years since this grand desideratum was introduced under the name of

and from that time to the present its progress has been without a parallel in the history of proprietary medicines. With the spirit of the sugar cane—the most nutritious of all stimulants—for its basis, and medicated solely with the juices and extracts of rare vegetable specifics, such as Calisaya Bark, the best known Tonic that the world produces, and which makes it by all odds the most unobjectionable invigorant, corrective and general alterative that has ever been placed by science within the reach of the sick, the suffering, and the despondent. Hence it has overleaped all competition, and Plantation Bitters is to-day the most popular Tonic on either side of the Atlantic. Sold by all Druggists.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

Probably few articles have ever had so extensive a sale, while none have been more universally beneficial than the celebrated MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Children, Adults, Horses, and Domestic Animals, are always liable to accident, and it is safe to say, that no family can pass a single season without some kind of emollient being necessary. It becomes a matter of importance then to secure the best.

The merits of the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT are well-known throughout the habitable world. From the million upon million of bottles sold, no complaint has ever reached us. It is recommended for Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Rheumatism, Swellings, Bites, Chilblains, etc., upon man, and for Spavins, Founders, Ring-bone, Poll Evil, Scratches, Wind-Galls, Hoofale, etc., upon horses.

IMPORTANT TO OWNERS OF HORSES.

"This is to certify that the Mexican Mustang Liniment has been extensively used in our stables throughout the country (we have 2,500 horses) with the greatest benefit in all cases of galls, kicks, sprains, lameness, stiffness, etc. Many of our men have had occasion to use it in their families, and all speak of it in the highest terms. One of our men got kicked and badly cut and bruised; as usual, the Mustang Liniment was resorted to; the lameness was removed, and he was almost well in four days. We can cheerfully recommend it as a valuable preparation for man or beast.

"Yours respectfully, J. DUNNING, Foreman of Adams & Co.'s Express Stables, N. Y."

"We take great pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as an indispensable and valuable article, and the best we have ever used for Sprains, Sores, or Galls on horses. Some of our men have also used it for severe burns and sores, as well as rheumatic pains, and all say it acts like magic. J. H. HEWITT, Foreman,

For American Express Co., 10 Wall Street; Harnden's Express Co., 74 Broadway; Pullen, Virgil & Co., Express Co., 14 Wall Street; Wells, Fargo & Co., 14 Wall Street."

Over three hundred livery stables in the city of New-York alone are using the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, in all of which it gives unusual satisfaction.

CAUTION.

Some unprincipled parties have undertaken to counterfeit this Liniment. The genuine is wrapped in a fine Steel Plate engraving, with "G. W. Westbrook, Chemist," and "Trade Mark. MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT," engraved across the face of each wrapper. The whole bears the proprietor's private United States Revenue Stamp, and not a common stamp, as used by druggists. First Mortgage Sinking Fund Land Grant Bonds of the St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad Company, in denominations of $1000, $500, and $100, can be obtained from the undersigned or through the principal banks and bankers throughout the United States, at 97½ and accrued interest, and are received at par and accrued interest in payment for land purchased from the Company. These Bonds, bearing (8) eight per cent interest in gold, free of tax, combine a perfect security with a liberal rate of interest. This interest account is made light for, and easily borne by, the Company, through the operation of the Sinking Fund created from sales of the Company's land, which, in many cases, draw interest at the rate of ten (10) per cent per annum. The security behind them is ample in every particular, as they constitute a first and only mortgage on a trunk line of railroad which will soon connect the City of St. Joseph, Mo., (an important railway centre,) with the Union Pacific Railroad at Fort Kearney, materially shortening the distance between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. In addition to this, the Bonds have further security in the fact that there is included in the Mortgage the Company's magnificent lands, amounting to 1,500,000 acres, known to beamong the best in the United States. The Mortgage Indenture prohibits the sale of these lands at less than Four (4) Dollars per acre, and payable to the Trustees under the Mortgage, for the clear and express purpose of retiring these Bonds. The amount thus realized exceeds the entire amount of Bonds which can be issued, and leaves the road, property, and franchises free.

The lands of this Company, situated in Kansas and Nebraska, are among the finest for Agricultural purposes in the United States. The Bonds have thirty years to run, with interest at eight per cent, free of tax, payable in February and August in each year. Both principal and interest are payable in gold. The principal in New-York. The interest in either New-York, London, or Frankfort-on-the Main, at the option of the holder, without notice, and in the gold currency of the country in which they are presented. They are coupons or registered.

Trustees—Farmers' Loan and Trust Company. Maps, circulars, documents, and full information furnished on application.

THE WORLD ALMANAC FOR 1873.

The Year 1873.

THE year 1873 is the latter part of the 5633d and the beginning of the 5634th since the creation of the world, according to the Jews. It answers to the 6586th of the Julian Period, the 2626th from the foundation of Rome, the 2649th year of the Olympiads, and the year 7381-82 of the Byzantine era. The 98th year of American Independence begins July 4.

NOTE.—In the table above, it is to be understood that the word "near" and the character ♂ (conjunction) are synonymous, and mean that the two bodies are nearest each other at the time expressed, and that they are then on a line running from the North Pole through both bodies, and have the same right ascension. GR. ELON. means greatest elongation, or greatest apparent angular distance from the SUN. The character ☍ indicates that the planet is opposite the Sun, or 180 degs., or half a circle east of it, and rises when the Sun sets, and sets when he rises. When a planet is a quarter of a circle, or 90 degs. from the Sun, east or west, it is known by □. These are the signs of the planets: ☉ the Sun; ☽ ● the Moon; ☿ Mercury; ♀ Venus; ⊕ the Earth; ♂ Mars; ♃ Jupiter; ♄ Saturn; ♅ Uranus; ♆ Neptune.

The Two Platforms.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Adopted by the National Democratic Convention at Baltimore, July, 1872.

We, the Democratic electors of the United States in convention assembled, do present the following principles, already adopted at Cincinnati, as essential to just government.

First: We recognize the equality of all men before the law, and hold that it is the duty of government in its dealings with the people to mete out equal and exact justice to all, of whatever nativity, race, color, or persuasion, religious or political.

Second: We pledge ourselves to maintain the union of these States, emancipation, and enfranchisement, and to oppose any reopening of the questions settled by the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution.

Third: We demand the immediate and absolute removal of all disabilities imposed on account of the rebellion, which was finally subdued seven years ago, believing that universal amnesty will result in complete pacification in all sections of the country.

Fourth: Local self-government, with impartial suffrage, will guard the rights of all citizens more securely than any centralized power. The public welfare requires the supremacy of the civil over the military authority, and freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus. We demand for the individual the largest liberty consistent with public order; for the State, self-government, and for the nation a return to the methods of peace and the constitutional limitations of power.

Fifth: The Civil Service of the government has become a mere instrument of partisan tyranny and personal ambition, and an object of selfish greed. It is a scandal and reproach upon free institutions, and breeds a demoralization dangerous to the perpetuity of republican government. We therefore regard such thorough reforms of the Civil Service as one of the most pressing necessities of the hour; that honesty, capacity, and fidelity constitute the only valid claim to public employment; that the offices of the government cease to be a matter of arbitrary favoritism and patronage, and that public station become again a post of honor. To this end it is imperatively required that no President shall be a candidate for reëlection.

Sixth: We demand a system of federal taxation which shall not unnecessarily interfere with the industry of the people, and which shall provide the means necessary to pay the expenses of the government economically administered, the pensions, the interest on the public debt, and a moderate reduction annually of the principal thereof; and, recognizing that there are in our midst honest but irreconcilable differences of opinion with regard to the respective systems of protection and free trade, we remit the discussion of the subject to the people in their Congress Districts, and to the decision of the Congress thereon, wholly free of executive interference or dictation.

Seventh: The public credit must be sacredly maintained, and we denounce repudiation in every form and guise.

Eighth: A speedy return to specie payments is demanded alike by the highest considerations of commercial morality and honest government.

Ninth: We remember with gratitude the heroism and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors of the republic, and no act of ours shall ever detract from their justly-earned fame for the full reward of their patriotism.

Tenth: We are opposed to all further grants of lands to railroads or other corporations. The public domain should be held sacred to actual settlers.

Eleventh: We hold that it is the duty of the government, in its intercourse with foreign nations, to cultivate the friendship of peace, by treating with all on fair and equal terms, regarding it alike dishonorable either to demand what is not right, or to submit to what is wrong.

Twelfth: For the promotion and success of these vital principles and the support of the candidates nominated by this convention, we invite and cordially welcome the coöperation of all patriotic citizens, without regard to previous affiliations.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Adopted by the National Republican Convention at Philadelphia, June, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country:

First: During eleven years of supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all, and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses, and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased, with a firm hand, the resultant disorders of a great war, and initiated a wise policy toward the Indians. The Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generally aided and successfully conducted; the public lands freely given to actual settlers; immigration protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the naturalized citizens' rights secured from European powers. A uniform national currency has been provided; repudiation frowned down; the national credit sustained under most extraordinary burdens, and new bonds negotiated at lower rates; the revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions of rates of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during Gen. Grant's presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 a year. A great financial crisis has been avoided, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and the power of the nation kept in high respect throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future. We believe the people will not intrust the government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who have resisted every step of this beneficial progress.

Second: Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political, and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union, by efficient and appropriate State and federal legislation. Neither the law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect of citizen by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Third: The recent amendments to the national Constitution should be cordially sustained, because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments.

Fourth: The national government should seek to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

Fifth: Any system of the Civil Service under which the subordinate positions of the government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing; and we, therefore, favor a reform of the system by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage, and make honesty, efficiency, and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life-tenure of office.

Sixth: We are opposed to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be set apart for free homes for the people.

Seventh: The annual revenues, after paying the current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal, and the revenue, except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties upon importations, the duties of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, and promote the industries, growth, and prosperity of the whole country.

Eighth: We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union; their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to the length of service or the cause of such discharge.

Ninth: The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance—"Once a subject always a subject"—having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the individual's right to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former government; and we urge the continual and careful encouragement and protection of voluntary immigration.

Tenth: The franking privilege ought to be abolished, and the way prepared for a speedy reduction in the rate of postage.

Eleventh: Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of so shaping legislation as to secure full protection, and the amplest field for capital, and for labor the creator of capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

Twelfth: We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions, and for the protection of the ballot-box, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the nation.

Thirteenth: We denounce repudiation of the public debt in any form or disguise as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of the debt and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption of specie payments.

Fourteenth: The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America, for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom. Their admission to wider fields of usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

Fifteenth: We heartily approve the action of Congress in extending amnesty to those lately in rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

Sixteenth: The Republican party propose to respect the rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and to the federal government. It disapproves of the resort to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or national government.

Seventeenth: It is the duty of the general government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

Eighteenth: We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, the sound judgment, the practical wisdom, the incorruptible integrity and the illustrious services of Ulysses S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day upon a new march to victory.

Wheat.—The Department of Agriculture reported a falling off in the production in New-England and the Middle States, but an increase in the South and the Pacific coast. The North-western States beyond the Mississippi reported favorably, but east of the river there was a general falling off, except in Wisconsin. In the aggregate there was an increased growth in the Union of 5 per cent, or say 240,000,000 against 230,000,000 last year.

Corn.—There was an average increase of 8 per cent over the large crop of last year, showing probably the greatest crop ever grown in this country. Owing, however, to wet weather during the fall, the condition was not so good as last year; besides, in consequence of low prices and high freights, much was not gathered in the far West, and some is reported to have been burned as fuel.

Oats.—The product of oats increased, as compared with that of last year, by about 3 per cent. Completed calculations may slightly modify the present aggregate of 265,000.000 bushels. In quality and condition, however, the crop is not so good.

Barley.—The barley product was slightly above that of last year in all the Western States. A decrease was apparent in all the Atlantic States. The quality was also below average in most of the States.

Rye.—The rye crop was smaller by 2 per cent than that of last year. The quality generally good.

Potatoes.—The potato crop was comparatively short. Rot prevailed in many portions of the New-England States. The Colorado beetle marched eastward, and appeared in Pennsylvania and West-Virginia; and drought injured late potatoes in the central part of the West.

Connecticut and Massachusetts have raised in 1872, 50,000 cases, but it is in a damaged condition; damage caused mainly by "pole rot." It would be safe to estimate the damage at 50 per cent., giving thus 25,000 cases sound tobacco.

Acts of Congress.

Synopsis of the principal Acts and Resolutions passed at the Second Session of the Forty-second Congress.

Apportionment of Representatives in Congress.—After March 3, 1872, the House of Representatives shall be composed of 283 members, apportioned among the States as follows. (See supplemental act and table of the electoral vote for President.) Any new State admitted after this apportionment shall be entitled to an additional member or members. Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1876, is fixed for the election in all the States and Territories, of representatives and delegates to the Forty-fifth Congress, and the same day in November, every second year thereafter, for the elections for each subsequent Congress. No State shall hereafter be admitted to the Union without having the necessary population to entitle it to at least one representative, according to the ratio of representation fixed by this bill. Should any State deny or abridge the right of suffrage to any citizens, for cause otherwise than participation in the rebellion, or other crime, the number of representatives shall be reduced proportionately. [Public, No. 10, Feb. 2, 1872.]

Supplemental Apportionment Act.—One representative in Congress additional to those apportioned by the above act allowed to each of nine States named, making the whole number of representatives in Congress after March 4, 1873: 292. [Public, No. 160, May 30, 1872.]

Public Park near the head waters of the Yellowstone River.—A tract of land in Montana and Wyoming Territories, lying near the head waters of the Yellowstone River, is set apart for a public park or "pleasuring ground," and the Secretary of the Interior is directed to make rules and regulations for its care and management, and the preservation of its natural curiosities, wonders, etc. [Public, No. 22, March 1, 1872.]

Foreign Works of Art for Public Exhibition admitted Duty Free.—Paintings, statuary, and photographic pictures, imported for public exhibition, and not intended for sale, shall be admitted free of duty. Bonds shall be given for payment of customary duties on all such articles not reëxported six months after importation. [Public, No. 25, March 5, 1872.]

Homesteads on the Public Lands for Honorably Discharged Soldiers and Sailors.—The provisions of the "Homestead Law" are extended to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the United States, who served in the late rebellion. [Public, No. 65, April 4, 1872, and Public, No. 220, June 8, 1872.]

Railroad from Great Salt Lake to Portland in Oregon.—Public lands are granted to aid in the construction of a Railroad from or near Great Salt Lake in Utah Territory to Portland in Oregon, with a branch to Walla Walla valley. The roads to be completed within ten years. [Public, No. 71, April 12, 1872.]

Repeal of the Duty on Tea and Coffee.—Tea and Coffee shall be placed on the free list on and after July 1, 1872. [Public, No. 87, May 1, 1872.]

Removal of Political Disabilities.—Political disabilities imposed by the third section of the fourteenth amendment are removed from all persons whomsoever, except senators and representatives in the 36th and 37th Congresses, officers of the Judicial, Military, and Naval service of the United States, heads of Departments and foreign ministers of the United States. [Public, No. 133, May 22, 1872.]

The Centennial International Exhibition.—A Centennial Board of Finance is incorporated to take charge of the financial department of the forthcoming Centennial International Exhibition in Philadelphia. It is authorized to issue bonds and secure subscriptions of capital stock to an amount not exceeding $10,000,000, to be divided in shares of $10 each, the proceeds of such stock to be used for the erection of buildings and maintenance of the exhibition. [Public, No. 173, June 1, 1872.]

Reduction of Taxes.—Duties and internal taxes are reduced on a schedule of several hundred articles, and the acts relating to distilled spirits and tobacco are amended in many particulars. [Public, No. 206, June 3, 1872.]

Shipping Commissioners.—Circuit Judges are authorized to appoint in each port of entry within their jurisdictions, a shipping commissioner, who shall superintend the engagement and discharge of crews, and facilitate the making of apprentices for the sea service. Compensation is granted according to a schedule of fees. The act also provides for the discipline and protection of seamen. [Public, No. 208, June 7, 1872.]

Post-Office Department Regulations.—The statutes relating to the Post-Office Department are revised, amended, and consolidated, rates of postage, salaries of officials, penalties for misdemeanors, etc., fixed, and all other matters relating to the transmission of mail matter through the United States mails rearranged and regulated. [Public, No. 216, June 8, 1872.]

The vote for President in 1872, given above, is that returned by the Secretary of State. His returns also elected the Republican state ticket headed by Elisha Baxter for Governor. To secure these results, the vote of four entire counties and of several townships in other counties was thrown out. The official returns for Congressman at large elected W. J. Hynes, Lib., by 246 majority. L. C. Ganse, Dem., in the First; O. P. Snyder, Rep., in the Second; and T. M. Gunter, Dem., in the Third district are reported elected. The legislature is Republican in both branches.

ARIZONA.

An election for Delegate to Congress was held in this Territory in 1872, and Richard C. McCormick, Rep., was chosen, without opposition.

A Convention to revise the Constitution was called in 1871 by a vote of 30,220 to 27,638. The political complexion of the Convention was as follows: Democrats 65, Republicans 13; Democratic majority 52. The new Constitution was ratified by the people in the election of August, 1872.

Owing to different interpretations of the law there were two elections held in West-Virginia, in 1872, for Representatives in Congress. In the August election John J. Davis, Ind. Dem., B. M. Hagens, Rep., and Frank Hereford, Dem., were reported elected. In the October election Benjamin Wilson, Benjamin F. Martin and Frank Hereford, all Democrats, were elected. The seats will be contested in Congress.

Present State Government.

Governor, John J. Jacob; Secretary of State, John M. Phelps; Auditor, Edward A. Bennett; Treasurer, John S. Burdett; Attorney-General, H. M. Mathews; Judges of the Supreme Court, Ralph L. Berkshire, President Edwin Maxwell, and C. P. T. Moore: Superintendent of Free Schools, Ben. W. Byrne—all Democrats.

What is said of The World.

From the Omaha (Neb.) Herald.

It is now known everywhere as not only a first-rate newspaper, but as the organ of some of the most candid and intelligent discussions upon the great questions of American politics ever printed. No journal has taken more pains to accumulate interesting facts bearing upon these subjects, and none has used them with more vigor in the advocacy of policies which, when the mists of passion have cleared away, must be controlling in this country.

From the Niles (Mich.) Republican.

From the Democratic stand-point, the New-York World is by far the ablest, best, and most dignified paper in this country.

From the Carthage (Mo.) Banner.

We can recommend this paper to every Democrat as one of the ablest and best exponents of Democratic principles, now published. In short, we hardly know of a newspaper that is more outspoken and opposed to the present administration of National and State affairs and Republican politicians than the World. As a newspaper it cannot be excelled.

From the Hartford Evening Post, January, 1873.

The New-York World, which is said to be more prosperous than ever, has greatly improved its appearance by discarding big type in the headings of its news items and general articles, "preferring to use the space for news and matter the reader is anxious to have, rather than deprive him of it for the purpose of making a little cheap sensation."

From the Cassville (Mo) Democrat.

If any of our readers want a reliable paper from New-York, they ought by all means to send for the World.

From the Oconomowoc (Wis.) Times.

It is everywhere recognized as the ablest Democratic journal in America, and in general news is conceded among the best. We regard it and its opinions as deserving first consideration, and commend it to the favor of the public.

From the Carroll (Iowa) Herald.

In presenting the prospectus of the New-York World, we can vouch for its being the ablest representative of the Democratic party published in the United States. It is also reliable and complete as a newspaper, and in this respect is not excelled by any other publication. By reference to the terms, it will be seen that the Weekly World is furnished to clubs at a very low rate.

From the Winterset (Iowa) News.

As a medium of Democracy, it is superior in ability, and as a standard for news we think it far superior to any paper in N. Y. City. It still clings to the old Democratic name; and will not yield to the disruption of the good old name. Those desiring a paper as far east as New-York, can not better themselves by subscribing for any other paper than the New-York World.

From the Danville (Ind.) Indianian.

Situated as it is in the focus of civilization and centre of intelligence, it is the most powerful organ of Democracy, and has had for many years as its opponent no less an antagonist than Horace Greeley. Manton Marble, its editor, has invariably had the best of the argument between himself and the Sage of Chappaqua on the tariff question.

From the Dakota (Iowa) Independent.

Those who want a good, reliable newspaper, embracing almost every variety of news in the several departments, with discourses upon all topics of interest, political and otherwise, by the ablest writers in the country, should send for the New-York World, the leading Democratic paper of the country.

The vote returned by the regular (Warmoth) Board of Canvassers is given for Louisiana and that returned by the Secretary of State of Arkansas for that State, for 1872. The number of citizens in the several states, entitled to vote, according to the census of 1870, was 8,307,365. The actual vote in 1872 was 6,457,315, and therefore, allowing for the increase in population in two years, it is evident that over 2,000,000 citizens entitled to vote did not vote for President in November, 1872.

Vote of the Electoral Colleges—December, 1872.

Rates of Postage.

LETTERS.

Letters to any part of the United States, 3 cents per half-ounce, prepaid. City letters must be prepaid 2 cents per half-ounce. Letters not called for (if prepaid) will be returned to the writer at his or her request without additional postage. Letters deposited without being properly prepaid are sent immediately to the Dead-Letter Office, Washington. Letters deposited in city lamp-post boxes must have the requisite number of stamps before placing them therein. Depositing money in the boxes does not insure their being prepaid. Newspapers are not taken at city lamp-post boxes. New stamped postal cards, furnished only by the Government, 1 cent each; circulars unsealed, with no writing, 2 cents for every two ounces to one address. No postage required on letters to the President, Vice-President, and Members of Congress, or on official communications to heads of bureaus of Executive Departments.

NEWSPAPERS.

Transient newspapers are rated at 1 cent for every two ounces, and 1 cent additional two ounces, prepaid. Newspapers sent from the office of publication may be prepaid at the following rates quarterly: dailies, (six issues per week,) per quarter, 30 cents; weeklies per quarter, 5 cents; monthlies, every four ounces, per quarter, 3 cents.

BOOKS.

Postage on books, not exceeding 2 ounces in weight, 2 cents; each additional 2 ounces or fraction thereof, 2 cents, prepaid.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTER.

On maps, prints, engravings, music, cards, photographs, book manuscript, proofs, cuttings, roots, seeds, etc., in one package to one address, prepaid, not exceeding 2 ounces, 1 cent, and 1 cent each additional ounce, limited to 12 ounces, and so wrapped that the contents may be seen.

MONEY-ORDERS.

Money can be sent to any part of the country, or England, Ireland, or Germany, with absolute safety, by obtaining a money-order. The fees are, on orders payable in the United States: on orders not exceeding $10, 5 cents; not exceeding $20, 10 cents; not exceeding $30, 15 cents; not exceeding $40, 20 cents; exceeding $40, 25 cents. No order issued for more than $50.

On orders payable in the United Kingdom of Great Britain or Ireland: orders not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10, and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20, and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30, and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40, and not exceeding $50, $1.25. No single order issued for less than $1, or more than $50. List of money-order offices may be seen at post-offices. In New-York City, the money-order office is open from 10 A.M. to 3 P.M.

THE NEW-YORK WORLD.

WHAT ITS CONTEMPORARIES SAY OF IT.

From the Clarksburg (W. Va.) Conservative.

We have always considered the New-York WORLD as the highest type of American journalism. The editorials in THE WORLD evince a high state of culture and an intimate acquaintanceship with the demands of statesmanship. THE WORLD has taken positions that neither we nor our patrons could endorse, but we are satisfied that they were the offsprings of a desire to advance the interests of the Democratic party. In the news department THE WORLD has been remarkably progressive, having the latest intelligence from all quarters of the globe, and in this proving its claim to an advanced paper of the American metropolis.

From the Georgetown (O.) News.

The New-York WORLD, perhaps the ablest edited paper in the United States. Persons desiring a daily or weekly newspaper from the seat of wealth and commerce of this country, should take THE WORLD.

From the Fort Dodge (Iowa) Times.

Emphatically a "people's paper," laboring to overthrow monopolies and establish pure, unadulterated Democracy.

From the Monticello (Wis.) Express.

We advise every man, whether Democrat or Republican, to subscribe for it. In reading THE WORLD, it seems to be more the voice of the nation than of a political party. Through it the best statesmen of the country speak, and in it you find the true philosophy of our government. It is the political text-book of the age, and no man can keep himself fully and correctly posted without it.

From the Buffalo Courier.

A daily newspaper second to none on this continent. The New-York Daily WORLD, in its editorials, literary news, commercial and monetary departments, has become, under Mr. Marble's management, a power in the nation. Its leading articles betray profound investigation and refinement of thought, and its news from all parts of the world is evidently prepared with the most commendable enterprise and accuracy. While THE WORLD is an outspoken advocate of Democratic principles, it is nevertheless thoroughly independent of trading, mercenary politicians.

From the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Democrat.

One of the best of the New-York dailies. It is a large sheet, soundly edited, and its proprietor probably expends more money in the collection of news than any competing metropolitan journal.

From the Parkersburg, (W. Va.) Times.

As this paper is the leading Democratic organ of the country, and as it takes advanced ground in regard to the issues growing out of the war, and is edited by one of the ablest men of the Democratic party, any Democrat anxious for a thorough knowledge of the aims and aspirations of their party, should take THE WORLD'S daily, semi-weekly, or weekly edition.

From the Ebensburg (Pa.) Freeman.

It is entirely unnecessary for us to enlarge upon the great merits of THE WORLD as a newspaper. It has a world-wide reputation and is confessed on all hands to display more enterprise, energy, and ability in its management than any other journal of either party in the United States. It is established on a firm and permanent basis, and bids fair in the future to surpass all its great achievements in the past. The inducements which it holds out for the formation of clubs are of the most liberal character, and ought to commend themselves to the favorable consideration of the Democracy in every section of the country,

From the Elkton (Md.) Democrat.

We have long regarded THE WORLD as the very best journal in the land. As a vehicle of news it is enterprising, indefatigable, and conscientious. As an exponent of political truth it is profound, pains-taking, and lucid; and as a gladiator in the forefront of Democracy it is skillful, courteous, and invariably victorious.

From the South-Jackson (Mich.) Register.

It always gives us pleasure to say a good word for the WORLD, because of its accuracy of information, independence, reliability, and unswerving integrity. No journal could possibly denounce wrong wherever it is found, and defend the right with greater vigor. The WORLD is certainly the ablest and most complete newspaper published in New-York City, for all who wish to get early and reliable information on all the current topics of the day.

From the Oswego (N. Y.) Gazette.

The WORLD is the leading Democratic newspaper of this State, and is one of the most ably edited in the country. It contains the fullest and latest telegraphic, money and market reports. In its editorials it gives a fair and able discussion of the questions of the day from a Democratic standpoint, and in collecting foreign and local news it is second to no other journal in the world.

From the Sac City (Iowa) Sun.

It is, beyond all question, the ablest Democratic paper in the country, and is fully equal to any Republican paper as a newspaper. Send for a specimen copy and look at it.

From the Manchester (N. H.) Union.

We need not say that that paper, in point of ability, enterprise and influence, stands at the head of the Democratic press in this country.

From the Lacrosse (Wis.) Daily Leader.

In addition to being a first-class, metropolitan daily paper, THE WORLD is the leading Democratic paper of the United States, and as such is especially valuable to men of both parties who wish to keep posted on the political policy and sentiment of that party.

From the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Gazette.

This is one of the most scholarly papers printed in the United States, and wields an immense influence throughout the length and breadth of the land.

CARBOLIC SALVE.

THE IMPORTANT DISCOVERY OF THE CARBOLIC ACID AS

A Cleansing, Purifying, and Healing Agent,

Is one of the most Remarkable Results of Modern Medical Research.

DURING THE LATE CIVIL WAR IT WAS EXTENSIVELY USED IN THE HOSPITALS, AND WAS FOUND TO BE NOT ONLY A THOROUGH DISINFECTANT, BUT ALSO

The Most Wonderful and Speedy Healing Remedy Ever Known.

It is now presented in a scientific combination, with other soothing and healing agencies, in the form of a SALVE; and having been already used in numberless cases with the most satisfactory and beneficial results, we have no hesitation in offering it to the public as

The Most Certain, Rapid and Effectual Remedy

FOR ALL SORES AND ULCERS, NO MATTER OF HOW LONG STANDING; FOR BURNS, CUTS, WOUNDS, AND EVERY ABRASION OF SKIN OR FLESH; AND FOR ALL SKIN-DISEASES.

It gives me great pleasure to present to the public the following letter from my much esteemed friend D. R. Locke, better known as "Petroleum V. Nasby":

MR. JOHN F. HENRY, 8 College Place. NEW-YORK, May 29, 1871.

DEAR SIR—I had on a forefinger of my right hand one of those pleasant pets, known as a "Run-round." The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable, and the pain was gradually extending up the arm. A friend dressed it with CARBOLIC SALVE, and in twenty minutes the pain had so diminished as to give me a fair night's rest, which I had not had for a week. The inflammation left the finger in a day. I consider it a most valuable article for the household.

BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY & TAR.

THIS STANDARD OLD COUGH REMEDY,

So long and favorably known in the Western States, is rapidly gaining favor at the North and East. Read the following remarkable case in this City, of

A Cure Where Tubercles Had Already Actually Formed.

66 CARMINE STREET, NEW-YORK, September 10, 1869.

Mr. JOHN F. HENRY, U. S. Family Medicine Warehouse, No. 8 College Place.

Dear Sir—My daughter, aged 17 years, has been sick for the past two years with that terrible disease, Consumption, and we thought her beyond the reach of medical skill, only hoping to relieve her from the acute pains she was continually suffering as Tubercles had actually formed on her lungs. She has taken Cod Liver Oil, Balsams, Expectorants, Pectorals, etc., without experiencing any relief, until I was induced to try your PARK'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY AND TAR. On commencing to take the Balsam, her respiration was very difficult and painful, which is now natural and easy; she had great difficulty in expectorating, which is entirely cured, and, as before stated, tubercles had formed on her lungs "which have entirely disappeared," and I consider her now out of danger. The effect of this medicine is truly wonderful, and I consider it the most valuable remedy ever discovered.

Yours truly,

STEPHEN FISK.

1873. "The World" 1873.

A new political era is opening before the country.

The negro-cycle of our politics has rounded to its conclusion through civil war-social violence, industrial disorder, and has ended in giving freedom to four mil, lions of the negro race, and the ballot to its adult males.

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new."

The politics of this new era will come home to every man's busines and bosom as never before, being vital to private prosperity and the maintenance of a Democratic Republic.

For not only are the manifold encroachments of Federal upon State powers, and of both upon the large liberty of American freemen now as always to be repelled with ceaseless vigilance; not only is home-rule or local self-government now as always to be maintained for the best guarantee of civil liberty and of national greatness, but besides, the victories of peace which are to give splendor to the new political era must be won against every advantage which even enemies of free institutions could desire or possess.

A gigantic Debt, which the honor of the country is pledged to pay, encumbers all our industries with its oppressive burden. Nevertheless our systems of Municipal and State Taxation are crude, unequal, and defraud the poor to release the rich. Nevertheless our system of Federal Taxation is such an infamous masterpiece of ignorance and incapacity, put to the vile uses of monopolists and favorites and thieves, as never anywhere has disgraced modern civilization since Louis XIV., with his methods of taxation rather than its amount, paralyzed the industries of France. And along with the Tariff, which prohibits the export of our manufactures, abridges the number of our industries, cuts down the profit upon the exports from all our farms, plantations, and mines; abolishes our shipping from off the high seas, and filches five dollars from the people's pockets every time it puts one dollar into the U. S. Treasury—along with this engine of oppression, stupidity, and fraud goes a Currency of fluctuating value as the measure of values in every act of domestic exchange.

Whatever parties may arise or fall, whatever their defeats or triumphs, and whatever their names, THE WORLD now and always will remain the unflinching champion of a whereof Freedom, defended and defined by Justice, is the polar-star.

As a Vehicle of News, THE WORLD will spare no expense, no energy, to maintain and advance its place in the first rank of metropolitan journals. Its fresh, abundant, various, and accurate news, comprising the whole circle of current intelligence and literature, will be discussed, as becomes a with candor, with steady devotion to sound public and private morals, with special knowledge for special themes, and with various and wide-reaching apprehension of the manifold interests of men and women in their homes, their market-places, their workshops, and their farms.

"The World"

WHAT IS SAID OF IT.

It would be impossible for us to add any thing in commendation of this great metropolitan journal to what has heretofore appeared in our columns when noticing the entrance of THE WORLD upon a new year. To say that it is edited with remarkable ability, and that by the universal judgment of the American people it stands in the front rank of political journalism, is merely giving expression to the well-settled convictions of all who are familiar with its able and instructive columns. Certainly no paper in this country displays more energy and industry in laying before its readers the latest and most reliable news from all portions of the inhabitable globe. As the admitted organ of the Democratic party it is invalnable to the politician, and although on some occasions its views have not at the time met with an unqualified indorsement, they have been treated with that consideration and respect to which their high source entitled them. The terms of THE WORLD, especially when taken by clubs, are exceedingly moderate, and we cheerfully recommend to all Democrats, especially who wish to know what is transpiring in the world around them, the propriety of getting-up clubs for the weekly or semi-weekly WORLD.—Freeman, Cambria, Pa.

THE WORLD is the leading Democratic newspaper of this State, and is one of the most ably edited in the country. It contains the fullest and latest telegraphic, money, and market reports. In its editorials it gives a fair and able discussion of the questions of the day from a Democratic standpoint, and in collecting foreign and local news it is second to no other journal in the world.—Repository and Messenger, Canandaigua, N. Y.

WHATEVER may be said of its politics, the New-York WORLD is unquestionably one of the most ably edited and enterprising newspapers in the country.—Journal, Muscatine, Iowa.

THE WORLD is acknowledged to be the best paper in the United States. No man of any party will ever do without THE WORLD, after taking it one year.—Express, Monticello, Wis.

THE WORLD is not surpassed as a newspaper by any of the New-York Weeklies, and its friends should see that it has a club in every town of the county.—Sentinel, Lewiston, Pa.

THE WORLD is ably edited, and is the leading Democratic newspaper of the United States.—Republican, Sing Sing, N.Y.

THE NEW-YORK WORLD.—The immense power wielded by the New-York dailies of prominence is felt throughout the country. To them more than to any other papers belongs the moulding of public opinion. The positions they occupy are indeed responsible ones, and it is to be greatly regretted that some of them are willing to use their power for unworthy purposes. Among the few honorable papers in New-York City can be put THE WORLD. We are not able to agree with it on political matters. We believe it is in error in much that it advocates; but we are forced to admit that it is the most enlightened and liberal Democratic newspaper that comes to our table, and we feel sure that if its advice had been heeded in the past, its party would not have suffered the disastrous defeats with which its course for the past few years has been marked. As a newspaper, THE WORLD has few equals, and for ability it is unsurpassed. If it is within its power it will bring its party up to a much higher plane than it has yet occupied. Its circulation should, therefore, be greatly increased, that its power may become more generally felt.—Republican, Menden, Ct.

THE NEW-YORK WORLD.—Should any of our readers desire to subscribe for a live metropolitan journal—one that will always give them the very latest, reliable, and most elaborate telegraphic news from all parts of the globe, we unhesitatingly recommend them to take this ably conducted journal. It has wide-awake and enterprising correspondents in all parts of the world, who are always on the alert to telegraph it all the important news, regardless of expense.—Advertiser, Ripley, Mass.

THE NEW-YORK WORLD is, beyond question, the most ably edited paper in that city. Its editorials are its remarkable features. . . . . THE WORLD, however, as a home newspaper has no equal in this country. . . . . THE WORLD, intellectually, scholarly, or strictly literary, has not its equal in this country. . . . . There is not a magazine in Europe more exact in its language or more able in its masterly handling of a subject than the New-York WORLD.—Herald, Bayonne, N. J.

"THE WORLD" AGRICULTURALLY CONSIDERED.—Under this heading the American Agriculturist, the first journal of its class in this country, prints the following in the editorial columns of its February issue:

We do not refer to the "Wide, Wide World," but to the newspaper of that name. It has become the custom of late, for the daily newspapers to devote a share of their weekly editions to agricultural matters, and the agricultural departments of these papers are good or bad, according to the ability of the editors in charge of them. Persons who differ with THE WORLD in political matters will agree that its agricultural department is not surpassed, if it is equalled, by any of its rivals. There are not so many long "original" articles as in some papers, but a great variety of original and well-selected matter. Its reports of the Farmers' Club are the fullest that are given, and if one cares to know how much people can talk and say little, he can find it in THE WORLD the next morning after the club meeting. Other dailies wait a week before they publish the club reports, and whatever faint sparkle they may have has subsided.

BETTER THAN EVER.

THE NEW-YORK LEDGER

FOR THE NEW YEAR 1873.

THE GREAT FAMILY PAPER.

Instructive and entertaining as the LEDGER has been in the past, we hope and intend to make it still more instructive and entertaining in the future. Our experience is greater than heretofore, and our ambition to make the LEDGER the best paper of the kind published in the world, is undiminished.

It is the aim of the LEDGER to cultivate a taste for reading in the rising generation, and at the same time, by the character of its contents, to contribute constantly to their moral and intellectual improvement and growth.

An epicure might as well undertake to write down what he would have for dinner every day for twelve months to come, as for us to attempt, at this time, a catalogue of all the good things that will be spread before the readers of the LEDGER in 1873. Our old subscribers will bear us witness that all the promises we have ever made have always been more than fulfilled. We never let slip an opportunity to obtain any really good and desirable thing. Expense and trouble never stand in our way. And in this respect, as it has been in the past, so it will be in the future.

The LEDGER is particularly devoted to the interests and welfare of the young. A vast number of questions about lovers' quarrels, propositions of marriage, plans for housekeeping, and the best means of brightening the future of youthful married couples are answered in its columns.

One great and guiding principle with us is, to inculcate the sentiments of self-respect and self-reliance, and thus to strengthen and render more manly the characters which are just assuming form to endure through all their days.

The LEDGER is always full of life. Nobody ever complains that even a single number is dull.

It has the largest number of great and distinguished writers.

It contains the purest, sweetest, and most delightful stories, striking narratives, and instructive biographical and historical sketches.

It has the most popular and carefully prepared collection of scientific facts.

Many of the most distinguished clergymen of the country write for it.

All our favorite old writers will continue to write for the LEDGER; and we are always on the keen look-out for any new developments of real rising genius.

OUR TERMS FOR 1873.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Single copies, $3 per annum; four copies $10, which is $2.50 a copy; eight copies, $20. The party who sends us $20 for a club of eight copies, (all sent at one time,) will be entitled to a copy free. Postmasters and others who get up clubs, in their respective towns, can afterward add single copies at $2.50. No subscriptions taken for a less period than one year. Canada subscribers must send twenty cents in addition to the subscription, to pay the American postage. When a draft or money-order can conveniently be sent, it will be preferred, as it will prevent the possibility of the lossof money by mail. The postage on the LEDGER to all parts of the country is only twenty cents a year, or five cents a quarter, payable at the office where the paper is delivered.

The NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY had, at the close of 1872, 521 miles of road constructed, the greater part of which was in full operation with regular daily trains.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made for pushing the construction vigorously during the present year, and it is expected that a much larger amount of work will be done than even in 1872. The Minnesota Section, immediately on its completion, entered upon a satisfactory business, including local traffic and the large carrying trade of the North-Western British Settlements and the Hudson's Bay Company. The recently completed section of 65 miles, on the Pacific Coast, at once commands a profitable business between Puget Sound and the Columbia River, heretofore done by coastwise steamers. The earnings for 1873, with this length of road in full operation, giving the Company control of the extensive and productive trade of the Upper Missouri, much of Montana and the North-West, will be large.

Of the nearly Ten Million acres of land accruing to the Company in connection with the portion of Road now constructed, Several Millions acres, of excellent average quality, are in market, and their sale and settlement progressing. The average price thus far realized is $5.66 per acre—which is at the rate of more than $100,000 per mile of road for the whole grant.

The Company began last year the process of redeeming and canceling its First Mortgage Gold Bonds, as they are now being received at 1.10 in payment and exchange for the Company's land.

With these accomplished results and most favorable prospects, the Company is now selling its First Mortgage 7-30 Bonds for the purpose of completing its line of road. We recommend them as a well secured and unusually profitable investment. They have the following elements of strength and safety: They are the obligation of a strong corporation; they are a First Mortgage on the Road, its Right of Way, Telegraph Line, Equipments and Franchises, and a first lien on its Net Earnings. In addition to this unusually sufficient security there is pledged for the payment of principal and Interest a Land Grant of 12,800 acres per mile of road through the States, and 25,600 through the Territories. The rate of interest (seven and three-tenths per cent Gold) is equal now to about 8¼ currency. Gold Checks for the semi-annual interest on the Registered Bonds are mailed to the Post-Office address of the owner.

All marketable securities are received in exchange on most favorable terms.

1,500,000 ACRES

of the most FERTILE and eligibly located LANDS, suitable for FARMING and GRAZING, are offered FOR SALE to actual settlers, on the most liberal terms, by the ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER CITY RAILROAD COMPANY, lying along their line of road in the State of Nebraska.

The superior advantages that these lands possess in point of location, lying on the direct highway running East and West between New-York and San Francisco, is at a glance comprehended by every one looking to a rapid increase in the value of real estate and farming lands.

The SOIL is DEEP and RICH, and produces the heaviest Grain Crops in the country. The temperature of this section of the United States is particularly favorable for raising Fruit and all kinds of Garden Vegetables to perfection. And as a Grazing country it even excels Kansas, not only in point of the luxuriance of its grasses, but from the absence of the fly that troubles the cattle. This section has an abundance of good water, and is destined to become, before long, the fattening grounds of the large herds in the West. The climate is the most even and salubrious. The most liberal facilities will be extended to settlers on these lands.
